Hunting season opens Nov. 17

With Kentucky's small game and... (The traditional third Thursday of November) now is a good time to review some of the hunting rules and regulations you may have forgotten since last year.

Scouts honored... Two members of Scout Troop 50, Matthew, front left, and Joshua Guttrick, were recognized at a Court of Honor. They are shown with Scoutmaster Wilbert Winkle Jr., left, assistant Scoutmaster Chuck Tanner, and Tom Metcalfe, committee member.

If you use a pump or auto-loading shotgun, check its magazine before you set out opening day... especially if you have the pump during the deer season. The law requires that shotgun used to hunt all game except deer be charged to hold no more than three shells (two in the chamber and two in the magazine).

To check to make sure that the "year" which limits the capacity of the magazine is in place... hunting with an unlicensed gun is a common violation and in many cases an unintentional one - the hunter took the plug out during deer season and forgot to replace it, or he loosed the gun to a buddy, who removed the plug for him.

White youngsters under 16 may hunt without a license, they must have a hunting license before hunting. Anyone who is exempt from licensing requirements is not required to purchase officers or county court clerks and these should be obtained before hunting, since they contain a certain tag for the day's catch and stock and a taxidermy tag.
