Accounting graduate 'Proc' Blair opens Locust Street office

Proctor W. Blair has recently opened an accounting office at 117 Locust Street, which adjoins the office of his father, M.C. Blair, who owns M.C. Blair Insurance Agency.

Blair graduated in May from the University of Kentucky receiving a B.S. Degree in accounting. While at the university, he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Following graduation and prior to opening his office in Carlisle, Blair worked for a CPA firm in Winchester for four years.

Blair's wife, the former Sara Jim Ferry of West Liberty, will be working in her husband's office as secretary. She has a degree in public relations and advertising from the University of Kentucky.

The services Blair offers are: personal tax preparation (individual and monthly); quarterly payroll and monthly sales tax returns; affordable small business services including bookkeeping and accounts receivables and advice on the most current tax laws. In discussing his business, Blair states that self employment has been important to him, and that he had always planned to come back to Carlisle to fulfill that dream. He also emphasized the excellent reception he and his wife have received since moving to Carlisle. They have purchased the O.R. Conrad home in Johnson Addition.

Accounting will be a full time business for Blair. He will also assist his father in the insurance business when time permits. He plans for the two businesses to complement each other.

Special session set City Council to take up waterline, paging system and sewer costs

The City Council met in regular session Monday night with two proposals being addressed and then held a special called meeting Thursday night, Jan. 12.

The first proposal was brought up by Joe Hagler, building contractor from Lexington, speaking on behalf of Dr. Onesa Villarfer and Nate Young, who were in attendance. Dr. Villarfer has purchased land on Ky. Highway 28 and plans to build a home on the property. Onesa Villarfer and Nate Young request that a water line be laid along the road from the rock quarry past Villarfer's property to Onesa Villarfer's property. They would pay for the pipe which would cover about 300 feet. At completion of installation, they would dedicate the line to the city, who would own and maintain it. One question raised was whether to use a four- or six-inch pipe when considering fire protection and possible additional costs in the future.

Another proposal being considered by Council is that of purchasing a paging system for the City Fire Department. Calvin Denton who works with security at IBM in Lexington, suggested using a Motorola system which includes 12 pagers, an encoder and decoder for $3000 to $5000. Offer of the firm was not heard by the council while each fireman is called by phone. The system would help alleviate those two factors.

Clarvex Cord made the suggestion that some of the City accounts now being handled by The First National Bank be transferred to The Deposit Bank. He feels that in order to be fair, the City should support both banks. Council members were in agreement. The Finance Committee will meet with City Clerk Mary Tapp to decide which accounts could be transferred. Cord stated that this move has been considered in the past, but auditors suggested that it was more advantageous to have all accounts at one bank. More recently when Cord ques-

First place tie Eighth graders are undefeated

The Nicholas County eighth graders started their 1984 season the way they left off in 1983. The Jackets captured two Blue Grass Conference wins by defeating Scott County 46-30 and Georgetown 49-27.

Nicholas County overcame some foul decisions and errors they had when Scott County. After a 19-13 halftime tie the visitors outscored the Cardinals 11-16 in the third quarter to put the game away. Chris Holler had an excellent game collecting nine rebounds and handing out four assists. Teammate Chris Anderson had the number of assists.

Monday saw a "huge" Georgetown team come to town and the Jackets Vanishes to take on the Yellow Jackets of Woodford County. Game held off the Buffaloes to remain undefeated and in a first place tie with Woodford County in the conference standings.

Georgetown jumped on top 44 but the Jackets battled back to take a 13-12 advantage and stretched that margin to seven (28-15) at the half. Nicholas County struck put the game on ice and won five three pointers as they connected on 15 of 26 while Georgetown could muster only 14 of 42. Todd Day sparked at the line as he cashed in 9 of 10 attempts. Nicholas also outscored the visitors as Gannon Bryant and Tip Fryman paced the attack with five each.

In seventh grade action Nicholas played well but lost 28-23 at Scott County and dropped a 30-14 decision to Georgetown.

Nicholas County's next action is Thursday (tonight) as they travel to Versailles to take on the Yellow Jackets of Woodford County. Game time is 8 p.m.

Letcher named to ASCS committee

Eugene Letcher, a well-known Nicholas County farmer, was named to the ASCS Committee by delegates to the county ASCS Convention, held Dec. 15 at the local ASCS office.

The delegates also elected Clifton House and Lowell Livingston as first and second alternates to the committee.

Mr. Letcher operates a 23-acre dairy and tobacco farm in the county. Letcher has 24 years experience with ASCS as a county commissioner, community commitmentman and crop reporter. Letcher will serve as chairman to the committee. Also serving with Letcher is James Wood, vice-chairman, and Robert G. Brady, regular member.

ASCS county committees are in charge of local administration of such national farm programs as the hereby tobacco program, wheat and feed grain program, wool program, milk diversion program and conservation program.

2 lodged in Bourbon jail

The Kentucky State Police Post # 41 in Danville, has announced the arrest of Ronald K. July, 26, and Teresa A. Miller, 21, both of Old Landing in Lee County. They were arrested in Carlisle by Trooper John Hall at approximately 10:30 p.m. Jan. 3.

July was charged with one count burglary first degree, one count burglary third degree and persistent felon. Miller is charged with one count burglary first degree and one count third degree.

According to State Detective Jeff Jett, both burglaries occurred in 1981, one at the place of Keith Croach garage, Lopez Road, Bourson County, and the other at the Walter Huddleston residence in Nicholas County.

Jett, who investigated both burglaries, said that "the Bourbon and Nicholas County grand juries had indicted July and Miller and their warrants were on file." Miller and July were lodged in the Bourbon County jail.
