March of Dimes Snoball Tourney

Snoball Tourney
Snoball Feb. 3
Snow skiing
The sixth annual March of Dimes Snoball Snoball Tournament will be held on Friday, Feb. 3, through Sunday, Feb. 5, at the Shiloh and Idle Hill Park snoball fields in Lexington. In the event of unseasonably warm weather, the "rain date" will be the following weekend.
The tournament is a double elimination tournament. First, second and third place trophies will be awarded to men's competition only. There will be no women's competition. The entry fee is $25, and must be mailed by Jan. 27. Entry forms are available by contacting the March of Dimes, 121 Main Drive, Lexington, phone 668-2784/674.
The March of Dimes is also looking for volunteer umpires. Anyone wishing to participate as an umpire should also contact the March of Dimes.

ACP urges soil conservation

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block has announced that $20 million of the 1964 Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) will be used to convert highly erodible diverted acres to grass or trees.
This new initiative by USDA is to encourage more farmers to reduce soil erosion and improve natural resources. As Block announced, "Our goal in implementing this project is to determine a producer's willingness to make a long term commitment to more highly erodible land 4-8 years. Highly erodible land is defined as cropland eroding at a rate greater than the soil loss tolerance before treatment that is predominantly bad class III or above. This will capitalize on Acreage Conservation Reserve (ACR), cropland removed from production in 1964 to comply with commodity programs.
