Bob Watkins

UK Sports Report

Optimism.

A letter came last week from Bill Sears, events coordinator for the NCAA's Final Four in the Kingdome in Seattle, Wash.

"Dear Bob," it said. "Seattle is extremely proud to serve as the host city for the 1984 NCAA Division I men's championship basketball playoffs Mar. 31 and Apr. 2. We hope you are planning to cover this outstanding event."

Sears' letter made me wonder about the expense of sending what had to be thousands of such correspondences to sports writers in a countless number of towns and cities across the country whose teams might make it to the Final Four.

But it's a nice touch of optimism for UK fans. Sears hunch that Kentucky will have a team in Seattle on Mar. 31.

UK's twin towers

There is a feature story on UK's Sam Bowie and Melvin Turpin in the Feb. 27 issue of The Sporting News. The accompanying photo is interesting. It shows Bowie and Turpin blown up bigger than life (what else?) and leaning against UK's two high rise dormitories. Kirwan and Blanding towers.

And finally on the UK scene a bit of a recruiting note. According to a report in a Los Angeles newspaper Gunther Behnke, the 7-3, 265-pound West German Kentucky is recruiting, is considering five U.S. schools — North Carolina, Wyoming, UK, Brigham Young and Texas El Paso.

The favorite? Wyoming.

Quiz

Who is the only high school basketball coach in Kentucky to take three different teams to the Sweet 16?

Answer: Jack Sutherland — Gallatin County, Harrison County and Lexington Lafayette.

While on the subject of the Sweet 16, Paul Rogers will do play-by-play on the boys tourney for WHAS Radio again this year and his color analyst will be Hardin McLane of Elizabethtown. He has kept up with the game and gets that sparkle in his eye when the words "tournament time" come up each year.

McLane's experience in working U of L games on television for WAVE-TV and more recently Bellarmine games on cable, plus some previous radio work, will come in handy at the tournament. Good choice.

Argento Fund

On ex-UK basketballer Phil Argento (1969) who has been struggling with a rare muscle disorder, a telephone call came last week from Ron Allen, UK's liaison to the K-Men's Association in Lexington.

"We've raised more than $3,500 so far for Phil," Allen said. "It's just been great. We're going to go ahead and send him a check, thinking he might need the money now. We're sending a list of donors, too, and plan to send more money as donations come in."

A pretty nice day for Phil Argento last Wednesday. It was also his 37th birthday.

Get ready for it!

With the seat under Larry Farmer at UCLA growing hotter by the day, how long will it be until...

Sports writer No. 1 (from Los Angeles naturally), pontificates: "there is only one man who can really replace John Wooden at UCLA. That man is Denny Crum."

Sports writer No. 2 (from Pauley Pavilion): "How much money would it take to get Denny Crum to come on home?"

Sports writer No. 3 (from Louisville naturally), "The Pacific Ocean (interest free) wouldn't be enough. Forget it!"

Poll watching

Georgetown's upset loss to St. John's last week notwithstanding, four college basketball powers that raised the best in preseason returned to the top in Associated Press poll last Monday.

Although not in their original order, North Carolina, Georgetown, Houston and Kentucky ranked 1-2-3-4. In preseason they were 1-4-3-2.

While college coaches scoff at the idea that any poll is legitimate except the last one, the AP one will be an important barometer during the next three weeks for the NCAA seeding committee. And, the rankings will be of cosmic importance to college directors of athletics trying to make budget too.

Why?

Megabucks. Big money.

Seeding for the NCAA can mean the difference in a few thousand dollars and $500,000 to a cool million. Which of the four top ten a team in put into for tourna sent play can have a direct bearing on how much money a school can take home.

For example, last spring North Carolina State was "farmed out" to the West Regional. Not considered to be one of the heavyweight Final Four contenders at the time, NC State was "just happy to be in it," coach Jim Valvano said. NC State University received $130,000 for qualifying for Round 1, $290,000 for winning the West Region and another $520,000 for making it to the Final Four.

Total? $940,000. And where the Wolfpack played, and had a great deal to do with the rankings and in turn, that had plenty to do with how much money NC State officials put in the bank last April.

Teams to keep an eye on in the polls the next few weeks? Keep an eye on — DePaul, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Maryland, Memphis State, Tulsa, Nevada Las Vegas, Oregon State, Temple, Fresno State and yes, Indiana. And maybe Louisville too.

Jackets end season on winning note

by Rhonda Vaughn

In the last week of the regular season, the Nicholas County Bluejackets lost to the Tates Creek Commodores last Tuesday and defeated the Deming Black Devils Friday night.

NCHS was to have met MMI Wednesday night in the 37th District tournament at Bourbon County.

Jackets 61, Tates Creek 85

The Jackets fought the Commodores all the way through the game, but found theirs a hard team to beat.

The first quarter ended with the score 16-16 Tates Creek. The Commodores gained a bigger lead in the second quarter which ended 43-31.

The second half was a copy of the second quarter with the Commodores getting a little farther ahead, 60-46 after three, and 85-61 at the end of the game.

NCHS scoring: Anderson, 13-23, 10-16; Young, 1-4, 0-0; Robinson, 4-7, 1-4; Wells, 3-4, 1-2; McGuffey, 3-6, 0-0; Coldiron, 0-0, 5-6; Ramsey, 1-1, 0-0.

	Nicholas	Tates Creek
Field goals	22-49	36
Free throws	17-26	13-21
Fouls	16	19
Total points	61	85

Jackets 74, Deming 51

The Jackets took the ball at the beginning and took control of the game. It was an almost replay of Tuesday's game against the Commodores except with the Jackets in the lead.

Quarter scores were 16-8, 35-20, 53-30 and 74-51.

(Editor's Note: The reporter did not submit statistics of this ballgame for inclusion in the Mercury.)

SUMMER CHEMISTRY FOR TEACHERS AT MSU

Area high school teachers can enroll for up to 15 semester hours of classes and qualify for a teaching minor in chemistry through a new summer program to be offered by Morehead State University.

To be eligible for the program, teachers must have taken an introductory two-semester chemistry course and presently be certified to teach biology, physics, earth science or mathematics.

The program is similar to another offered last summer in which teachers were helped with teaching certification in physics.

The dates for classes are: Summer I session, June 11-29; and Summer II session, July 9-Aug. 3.

Applications and additional information are available from Dr. John Pilley, UPO Box 845, MSU, Morehead, Ky. 40351; phone 606-783-2013.

Our poles are as high as everyone's. Our rates aren't.

A survey of 30 electric utilities shows that once again, KU's rates are among the lowest in the nation. We're about 39 percent below the highest listing, and 17 percent below the average cost for residential usage of 500 kilowatt hours in January, 1984. We are pleased that KU is lower than 27 other companies that reported.

We're working to keep our electric rates as low as possible. But even though our rates are low, the cost of providing reliable electric service continues to rise. Holding down the cost is everyone's concern and responsibility.

We will continue supplying the energy you need at the lowest possible cost. You can help by using electricity wisely.
