Maysville hosts spiritual retreat

The Spiritual Life retreat for the United Methodist Women of the Maysville District will be at the Scott United Methodist Church in Maysville Monday, April 2, 6-9 p.m. This year's theme is "You are my witnesses."

Dr. E. Ray Throckmorton, district superintendent of the Maysville district, will be the speaker. Dr. Throckmorton is in his final year as the superintendent. Since he has been here his support of the United Methodist Women has been so enthusiastic that he was a natural choice to lead this last retreat.

The love offering will be given to Red Bird Mission and Ruggles Camp. Special music will be by the Scott Choir.

Miss Mildred Griffith, district coordinator of Personhood, is the program chairman.

Since there will not be a meal served, the host church will have refreshments at the break.

Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

Several weeks ago I received the following recipe from Mrs. Oma B. Steele. She says "it is easy to make and tastes real good." So I am passing it on to you.

TOMATO CAKE

In large bowl cream together:
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup shortening, softened
Add and mix well:
2 eggs
2 cups tomatoes, juice and all
½ cup chopped dates or nuts
½ cup raisins
Combine and add:
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon salt

Beat well. Pour into greased and floured two-layer pans or tube pan. Bake in 350 degree oven until done. Cool for 10 minutes. Remove from pan and use any kind of icing you wish. Caramel!

Now two recipes from Mrs. Hobart (Louise) Walker in Charlotte, NC, to Mrs. O.H. Lambert, who gave them to me.

LOUISE'S BAKED CHICKEN

5-6 pieces of chicken
Butter, salt, pepper

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Arrange chicken in shallow baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot with butter. Bake 15-20 minutes to crisp the skin. Turn oven to 200 degrees, bake two hours, basting once or twice. Do not cover. Put under broiler to brown skin.

HOT FUDGE SAUCE

¼ cup sugar
¼ cup cocoa
¼ cup water

Mix together and bring to a boil. Add ½ cup evaporated milk (one small can). Boil five minutes stirring occasionally.

Add 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

The following recipe is from a little cookbook I got for Christmas. I thought it was good.

SPECIAL SPINACH

10-oz. package frozen chopped spinach
¼ stick margarine
½ of an 8-oz. carton French Onion Dip
Salt to taste, and pepper
Herb seasoned stuffing

Cook spinach according to directions. Drain well. Melt margarine and add to spinach along with dip, salt and pepper. Put into greased one-quart baking dish and top with stuffing. Bake for 30 minutes at 350 degrees. Serves 3-4.

Use remaining onion dip with fresh vegetables or chips as an appetizer.

Gymnastics center to open here

The Cynthiana Gymnastics Center will be opening the Carlisle School of Gymnastics (Branch) Center at the old Armory gym. Registration will be Saturday, March 31, 10 a.m.-1 p.m. at the armory. Classes begin Monday, April 2.

The Cynthiana Gymnastics Center is owned and operated by Mike and Linda Hatterick. The Center offers classes in floor, beam, bars, vault and mini tramp for children age 3-16 years. Cheerleading tumbling classes are also taught. The Cynthiana Gym Center has three competitive gymnastics teams from beginner-advanced levels. The teams have been placing several gymnastics in the top 10 percent in each annual state meet. This year the Cynthiana Class III (children division) Team won the U.S.G.F. (United States Gymnastics Federation) first place team trophy at the state meet at the Kentucky Country Day School in Louisville Feb. 26.

The Carlisle School of Gymnastics will be coached by Margie Jaggers, a graduate of Georgetown College and coach at Cynthiana for three years, and Linda Hatterick, who attended Georgetown College and has been involved in gymnastics for five years.

The main goal is to train your child to do gymnastics in a safe and constructive atmosphere. The gymnasts will progress from developmental gymnastics through advanced if applicable.

Some of the qualities of the program include flexibility and coordination.

Arnold-sponsored bills await Collins' signature

Rep. Adrian Arnold, D-Mt. Sterling, has successfully-sponsored two pieces of agriculture legislation in the 1984 General Assembly that should help Kentucky farmers to keep their land in continued agricultural use.

Two agricultural measures sponsored by Arnold have been passed by both the House and the Senate and are awaiting the governor's signature.

House Bill 35 would amend the Agriculture District Act that Arnold sponsored in the 1982 General Assembly. The act was intended to preserve remaining farmlands from takeovers that have been occurring in many agriculture areas that border highly populated areas. The act originally allowed farmers to form districts and make a recommendation to the governor as to the validity of the plan.

Public hearings and notification of the planned takeover in the vicinity of the project would be required by the legislation.

Arnold, who is a farmer by profession and is a member of the House Committee on Agriculture and Small Business, is very adamant about the preservation of farmland in the state. He said Kentucky owes its hundreds of small farmers protection from unwanted takeover.

would be required if farmland within an agriculture district is notified of condemnation. The public hearing would be conducted by the local Soil and Water Commission, and before final action is taken, the state Soil and Water Commission can be petitioned.

The second piece of farmland legislation that Arnold sponsored would establish an Inter-Agency Farmland Advisory Committee. The panel would act as a review board when more than 50 acres of farmland is projected for use other than agricultural.

The legislation would require that state agencies would report on the proposals of this kind to the advisory committee. The committee would then review the proposal and make a recommendation to the governor as to the validity of the plan.

Public hearings and notification of the planned takeover in the vicinity of the project would be required by the legislation.

Arnold, who is a farmer by profession and is a member of the House Committee on Agriculture and Small Business, is very adamant about the preservation of farmland in the state. He said Kentucky owes its hundreds of small farmers protection from unwanted takeover.

Record deer season

Kentucky's deer harvest set another new record in 1983, with a total of 26,683 deer taken statewide. Since new harvest records have been set every year since 1978, last year's effort was expected and is further confirmation of what every deer hunter in the commonwealth knows — that our deer herd is growing by leaps and bounds.

Gun hunters, as usual, accounted for most of the deer — 22,961 as compared to 3,722 for archers. Hunters in open counties took 21,538 deer, with the remaining coming from federal installations and military posts.

For the second year in a row, Christian County led the list of open counties with 928 deer taken, followed by Ohio County with 822 deer and Hopkins with 758.

Butler (676 deer), Muhlenberg (642), Owen (619), Logan (617), Crittenden (491), Todd (451) and Breckinridge (436) round out the top 10 deer producing counties in Kentucky.

This year's total harvest figure represents a 5.42 percent increase over the 1982 figure of 25,311,- a smaller jump in harvest than we've had in recent years, when 20 percent increases were not uncommon. A poor fawn crop in 1982, coupled with the fact that many counties open to one day of antlerless deer hunting were limited to bucks only this year, contributed to this smaller increase.

'CHILDREN ACT FAST ...SO DO POISONS' PREVENTION WEEK THEME

National Poison Prevention Week begins March 18 and carries the theme "Children Act Fast...So Do Poisons." Dr. George C. Rodgers Jr., medical director of the Kentucky Regional Poison Center of Kosair-Children's Hospital, points out several easy measures which can prevent hundreds of child poisonings each year.

Dr. Rodgers suggests parents purchase cleaning products, garden chemicals, paint products and medicines in safety packaging whenever possible. These products should be stored in their original containers, out of children's reach, and preferably in a locked cabinet.

He suggests keeping a one-ounce bottle of Syrup of Ipecac for each child under five years old at home, and the Kentucky Regional Poison Center's toll-free phone number 1-800-722-5725 near the household telephone.

FARM BUREAU INSURANCE DECLARES 9% DIVIDEND

Kentucky Farm Bureau Insurance, on its 40th anniversary, has declared a 9% dividend on its farmowner policies that were in force one year or more on Dec. 31, 1983.

This means that over ¾ of a million dollars will be refunded to more than 28,000 Kentucky Farm Bureau farmowner policyholders.

The dividend was declared because of the unusually good loss experience of these policyholders.
