

The Carlisle Mercury

117th year, No. 19 Carlisle, Kentucky 40311, Thursday, May 10, 1984 30 cents per copy

Newspapers & Microfilms
University of Ky. Libraries
Lexington, KY 40506

MAY
10
1984

Jim Miller Day declared

May 13, 1984 has been declared "Jim Miller Day" in Carlisle and Millersburg. Last Friday, at Johnson Matthers Nursing Home, Mr. Miller was presented the proclamation by Karl Lusk, Mayor of Millersburg and Franklin Hughes, Mayor of Carlisle. Mrs. Reese Ingels of the M.M.I. Alumni Association, presented Mr. Miller with a 6x6 Colored ornament. Pictured from left are Clyde Soper of the Millersburg Rotary Club and City Council; Mayor Hughes; Mr. Miller; Mayor Lusk and Mrs. Ingels. —Marjory Photo.

Mayors, others honor Jim Miller

Franklin Hughes, mayor of Carlisle, and Karl E. Lusk, mayor of Millersburg, have declared Sunday, May 13, 1984 "Jim Miller Day" in their respective cities. This honor is being bestowed upon Mr. Miller in observance of the 70th anniversary of his graduation from M.M.I. and also for his active participation in community affairs in Millersburg and Carlisle for more than 50 years.

Mrs. Reese Ingels, Millersburg, secretary of the M.M.I. Alumni Association, gives the following biographical sketch of Mr. Miller:

James William Miller, descendant of the founders of Millersburg, was born Jan. 2, 1889 in Nicholas County near Millersburg. On June 1, 1909 he was one of 11 cadets graduating from Millersburg Military Institute. Upon graduation from M.M.I., he attended the College of Agriculture at the University of Kentucky.

On Dec. 4, 1914 he married Miss Frances Oney of Lexington, who is now deceased.

He enlisted in World War I, serving most of his time in Europe where he received a shoulder wound. He was honorably discharged as a first lieutenant.

He has been a lifetime member of the Millersburg Methodist Church, serving on its various boards. He has been a member and past master of the Millersburg Masonic Lodge for more than 50 years.

He has been on many committees in Bourbon and Nicholas counties, including the Agricultural Stabilization Committee, the American Legion, the Selective Service Board in Nicholas County for its entire existence. He has been a director in the Farmers-Exchange Bank in Millersburg for many years and a member of the Millersburg Rotary Club for over 50 years, having received its first honorary membership.

He was an active farmer at his ancestral home until his retirement, specializing in pastured sheep. He was a dealer in wood and thergasr seed.

Charles Miller Law, farmer and nurseryman, is his adopted son and a 1938 M.M.I. alumnus. Mr. Miller enjoys four grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild, and did enjoy hunting and fishing in his active days.

Several local persons interviewed in Millersburg agreed, "Jim Miller is one person about whom we have never heard anything but good."

Mr. Miller has a sister, Miss Elizabeth Miller in Millersburg, and a brother, Joe Miller Sr., who lives in Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. Miller is now a resident of the Johnson-Matthers Nursing Home where he is quite active in the activities of the home and looks much younger than his 91 years.

On Friday, May 4, Mr. Miller was presented with a Kentucky Colored ornament at the nursing home by Mr. Lusk, Mrs. Ingels and Clyde Soper of the Millersburg Rotary Club and the city council.

He was a former member of the Fire Department and a retired car repair businessman, died Thursday at St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington after an illness of several weeks. Wilson, of 505 North Street, was 67.

He was fire chief for about 20 years and also was a former member of the Carlisle City Council.

A mechanic for about 30 years, he owned and operated Woody's Auto

Repair for many of those years. He retired from that business about two years ago.

He served in the Army during World War II and belonged to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Lodge and the American Legion.

He was a member of Carlisle United Methodist Church.

Wilson is survived by his wife, Adeline Wilson, and four sisters. (See obituary on back page.)

Outstanding performance award granted Rep. Arnold, Sen. Ford

Rep. Adrian Arnold, D-Mt. Sterling, and Sen. Ed Ford, D-Cynthiana, were honored for "outstanding performance in the area of jail reform" by the Kentucky Jailers Association at the group's annual conference held recently in Owensboro.

Association President Homer Weaver told the audience that the two legislators have been "the House and Senate members to actively push for jail reform."

For the past two sessions, Arnold and Ford have sponsored several pieces of major jail-reform legislation for the state. Among those are budgetary changes that removed the old fee system for financing jail management, and legislation that altered the manner in which jailers are compensated by the state for necessary medical expenses.

Of their remarks to those attending the conference, the legislators applauded recent programs made in the area of jail reform, but also encouraged increased cooperation between state and local officials for a more efficient operation of jails.

The three-day conference included sessions on jail management and outside prevention.

Columbia Gas Company is seeking rate increase

Columbia Gas of Kentucky is seeking approval from the state Public Service Commission for rate and revenue adjustments that would increase the company's revenues $11.2 million, or 11.4 percent.

Of the total request, $10.2 million would be generated by increasing customer rates. The remaining $1 million would come from downward adjustments made internally to Columbia's revenue requirements.

Under its present rate structure, Columbia projects it will have a negative net income slightly over $1 million in 1984. The company plans to make the new rates effective May 30.

Columbia's last rate request was in 1982. After a series of hearings, the Commission granted $4 million of a total $14 million request.

Columbia serves some 112,000 customers in 20 western and bluegrass counties.

Mailing of phone books to be completed May 15

One of Kentucky's largest telephone book publishers is set to complete a new edition of its telephone directory.

Carlisle area homes and businesses will begin receiving the new books Thursday, May 10, with mailing to be completed by Tuesday, May 13. Carl Hens, local district manager for Bell, said residence customers who don't receive their books should call 1-800-369-4900. All calls are toll-free.

The cover of the new directory features a tranquil view of Zentler Bridge in Franklin County. Bell's 1984 directory is one of only 17 covered bridge remaining in the Commonwealth.

Reflections theme Nicholas County Style revue held April 29

The Nicholas County 4-H Fashion Revue was held April 29 at the elementary school. "Reflections" was the theme for the event. Garments made by sisters from the 1930s to the 1960s decorated the stage. Included were Anna Lee Lawson, tea towel and records; Fleet Allison, apron and apron; Phyllis Darrell, apron and high-heeled; Lily Moss, apron; Sue Grin Patrick, formal; Teresa Ellington Jackson, silk-mat; Louise Zachary, formal; Sharon Wilson, formal.

Participating in the style revue were: Get Ready, Set, Sew — April Bierman, Kristin Porter, Anna Whalen, Kruti Barton, Tammy Watkins, Andrea Hall.

Quick Clothes — Amy Simon, Kim Kunkin, Robyn Broadwater, Kasi Turpin.

Knit Knacks — Linda Gentry, Melody McClure, Michelle Mattox.

Casual Clothes — Mary S. Dutton, Creative Design — Susanne Jones, Tailored — Julie Wills.

Formal Wear — Michelle Maez-Casual Wear II — Pauline Dale.

The following girls were selected unit winners: Kristi Barton, Robyn Broadwater, Michelle Mattox, Mary S. Dutton, Susanne Jones, Julie Wills, Michelle Maez and Pauline Dale.

Representing the county in the Area Fashion Revue will be Tammy Watkins, Amy Simon, Melody McClure, Mary S. Dutton, Susanne Jones, Julie Wills, Michelle Maez and Pauline Dale.

Michelle Mattox was junior overall winner and Michelle Maez was senior overall winner. Susanne Jones and Michelle Maez will represent Nicholas County at the state style revue.

Leaders working with the style revue were: Anna Whalen, Gayle Barton, Lavina McFarland, Lisa Brookshire, Mona Clark, Carolyn Dutton, Sherry Fields, Judy Turpin, Leona Truitt, Patty McClure, Brenda Mattox, Kay Wills, Berita Doyle, Anita Hamner, Lynn Simon, Janet Simon, Trish Oberman, Betty Guthrie, Charles Guthrie and Louise Zachary.

Woody Wilson longtime volunteer fire chief dies

Repair for many of those years. He retired from that business about two years ago.

He served in the Army during World War II and belonged to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Lodge and the American Legion.

He was a member of Carlisle United Methodist Church.

Wilson is survived by his wife, Adeline Wilson, and four sisters. (See obituary on back page.)

Rep. Arnold, Sen. Ford

Rep. Adrian Arnold, D-Mt. Sterling, and Sen. Ed Ford, D-Cynthiana, were honored for "outstanding performance in the area of jail reform" by the Kentucky Jailers Association at the group's annual conference held recently in Owensboro.

Association President Homer Weaver told the audience that the two legislators have been "the House and Senate members to actively push for jail reform."

For the past two sessions, Arnold and Ford have sponsored several pieces of major jail-reform legislation for the state. Among those are budgetary changes that removed the old fee system for financing jail management, and legislation that altered the manner in which jailers are compensated by the state for necessary medical expenses.

Of their remarks to those attending the conference, the legislators applauded recent programs made in the area of jail reform, but also encouraged increased cooperation between state and local officials for a more efficient operation of jails.

The three-day conference included sessions on jail management and outside prevention.

Columbia Gas Company is seeking rate increase

Columbia Gas of Kentucky is seeking approval from the state Public Service Commission for rate and revenue adjustments that would increase the company's revenues $11.2 million, or 11.4 percent.

Of the total request, $10.2 million would be generated by increasing customer rates. The remaining $1 million would come from downward adjustments made internally to Columbia's revenue requirements.

Under its present rate structure, Columbia projects it will have a negative net income slightly over $1 million in 1984. The company plans to make the new rates effective May 30.

Columbia's last rate request was in 1982. After a series of hearings, the Commission granted $4 million of a total $14 million request.

Columbia serves some 112,000 customers in 20 western and bluegrass counties.

Mailing of phone books to be completed May 15

One of Kentucky's largest telephone book publishers is set to complete a new edition of its telephone directory.

Carlisle area homes and businesses will begin receiving the new books Thursday, May 10, with mailing to be completed by Tuesday, May 13. Carl Hens, local district manager for Bell, said residence customers who don't receive their books should call 1-800-369-4900. All calls are toll-free.

The cover of the new directory features a tranquil view of Zentler Bridge in Franklin County. Bell's 1984 directory is one of only 17 covered bridge remaining in the Commonwealth.

Young wins long jump

Ricky Young shows his form in the long jump, an event which he won in last week's meet with a jump of 20'11". Other athletes pictures on page 4.

Woody Wilson longtime volunteer fire chief dies

Repair for many of those years. He retired from that business about two years ago.

He served in the Army during World War II and belonged to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Lodge and the American Legion.

He was a member of Carlisle United Methodist Church.

Wilson is survived by his wife, Adeline Wilson, and four sisters. (See obituary on back page.)

Rep. Arnold, Sen. Ford

Rep. Adrian Arnold, D-Mt. Sterling, and Sen. Ed Ford, D-Cynthiana, were honored for "outstanding performance in the area of jail reform" by the Kentucky Jailers Association at the group's annual conference held recently in Owensboro.

Association President Homer Weaver told the audience that the two legislators have been "the House and Senate members to actively push for jail reform."

For the past two sessions, Arnold and Ford have sponsored several pieces of major jail-reform legislation for the state. Among those are budgetary changes that removed the old fee system for financing jail management, and legislation that altered the manner in which jailers are compensated by the state for necessary medical expenses.

Of their remarks to those attending the conference, the legislators applauded recent programs made in the area of jail reform, but also encouraged increased cooperation between state and local officials for a more efficient operation of jails.

The three-day conference included sessions on jail management and outside prevention.

Columbia Gas Company is seeking rate increase

Columbia Gas of Kentucky is seeking approval from the state Public Service Commission for rate and revenue adjustments that would increase the company's revenues $11.2 million, or 11.4 percent.

Of the total request, $10.2 million would be generated by increasing customer rates. The remaining $1 million would come from downward adjustments made internally to Columbia's revenue requirements.

Under its present rate structure, Columbia projects it will have a negative net income slightly over $1 million in 1984. The company plans to make the new rates effective May 30.

Columbia's last rate request was in 1982. After a series of hearings, the Commission granted $4 million of a total $14 million request.

Columbia serves some 112,000 customers in 20 western and bluegrass counties.

Mailing of phone books to be completed May 15

One of Kentucky's largest telephone book publishers is set to complete a new edition of its telephone directory.

Carlisle area homes and businesses will begin receiving the new books Thursday, May 10, with mailing to be completed by Tuesday, May 13. Carl Hens, local district manager for Bell, said residence customers who don't receive their books should call 1-800-369-4900. All calls are toll-free.

The cover of the new directory features a tranquil view of Zentler Bridge in Franklin County. Bell's 1984 directory is one of only 17 covered bridge remaining in the Commonwealth.

Diabetes Education team

Mrs. Justina Wilkerson, R.N., left; Mrs. Lee Rose, R.N., and Mrs. Margaret Cooke-Nease are members of the local health department's help educate diabetics about self management. —Marjory photo.

Diabetes counseling now available

Diabetes counseling is now available at the Nicholas County Health Department on Mondays by appointment. Mrs. Lee Rose, R.N., health department nurse has assisted 20 diabetics of specialized training in diabetes education.

This service is made available by a Diabetes Team Program sponsored by the WFTD District Health Department. Mrs. Rose is the designated nurse at the Nicholas County Health Department who is part of that team. Other team members are Mrs. Justina Wilkerson, R.N., and Mrs. Margaret Cooke-Nease, R.D. of WFTD.

The program is designed to assist diabetics. —Marjory photo.

Diabetes counseling now available

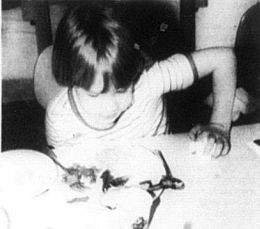

Diabetes counseling is now available at the Nicholas County Health Department on Mondays by appointment. Mrs. Lee Rose, R.N., health department nurse has assisted 20 diabetics of specialized training in diabetes education.

This service is made available by a Diabetes Team Program sponsored by the WFTD District Health Department. Mrs. Rose is the designated nurse at the Nicholas County Health Department who is part of that team. Other team members are Mrs. Justina Wilkerson, R.N., and Mrs. Margaret Cooke-Nease, R.D. of WFTD.

The program is designed to assist diabetics. —Marjory photo.

Ricky Young shows his form in the long jump, an event which he won in last week's meet with a jump of 20'11". Other athletes pictures on page 4.

Anna Stovall, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. David Stovall, enjoys lunch during the Nicholas County High School's P.E.A. physicohealth recently.

March of Dimes WalkAmerica Sunday

Nicholas County Hospital is the first business to have officially endorsed a team in this year's WalkAmerica for the March of Dimes on Sunday, May 13.

The walk, which starts at 11:30 a.m. at Nicholas County High School, will cover a 3-kilometer route from the high school down Highway 36 to the intersection with Highway 68 and returns to the school. Ten kilometers is approximately 6.2 miles.

The team walkers from the hospital will join with local high school and middle school students to help raise money for the March of Dimes fight against birth defects.

Birth defects, which affect more than 250,000 babies born every year, are the number one child health problem in the country. March of Dimes funds raised support national research programs into the causes of birth defects as well as local public and professional health education and medical services.

Level projects in the past have included purchase of a transport incubator and other equipment for Nicholas County Hospital.

Free T-shirts will be given to walkers who turn in more than $20.

The walk will take place rain or shine. In case of extreme bad weather, the walk will be shortened and bad weather credit given to the walkers.

Mrs. Justina Wilkerson, R.N., left; Mrs. Lee Rose, R.N., and Mrs. Margaret Cooke-Nease are members of the local health department's help educate diabetics about self management. —Marjory photo.

Diabetes counseling now available

Diabetes counseling is now available at the Nicholas County Health Department on Mondays by appointment. Mrs. Lee Rose, R.N., health department nurse has assisted 20 diabetics of specialized training in diabetes education.

This service is made available by a Diabetes Team Program sponsored by the WFTD District Health Department. Mrs. Rose is the designated nurse at the Nicholas County Health Department who is part of that team. Other team members are Mrs. Justina Wilkerson, R.N., and Mrs. Margaret Cooke-Nease, R.D. of WFTD.

The program is designed to assist diabetics. —Marjory photo.

Diabetes counseling now available

Diabetes counseling is now available at the Nicholas County Health Department on Mondays by appointment. Mrs. Lee Rose, R.N., health department nurse has assisted 20 diabetics of specialized training in diabetes education.

This service is made available by a Diabetes Team Program sponsored by the WFTD District Health Department. Mrs. Rose is the designated nurse at the Nicholas County Health Department who is part of that team. Other team members are Mrs. Justina Wilkerson, R.N., and Mrs. Margaret Cooke-Nease, R.D. of WFTD.

The program is designed to assist diabetics. —Marjory photo.

Diabetes counseling now available

Diabetes counseling is now available at the Nicholas County Health Department on Mondays by appointment. Mrs. Lee Rose, R.N., health department nurse has assisted 20 diabetics of specialized training in diabetes education.

This service is made available by a Diabetes Team Program sponsored by the WFTD District Health Department. Mrs. Rose is the designated nurse at the Nicholas County Health Department who is part of that team. Other team members are Mrs. Justina Wilkerson, R.N., and Mrs. Margaret Cooke-Nease, R.D. of WFTD.

The program is designed to assist diabetics. —Marjory photo.

Cave Run to be fishing site

Cave Run Lake will be the site of the third Mountain Division bass fishing event of the Red Man Tournament. Trail on June 3. The tournament, out

Diabetes counseling now available

Diabetes counseling is now available at the Nicholas County Health Department on Mondays by appointment. Mrs. Lee Rose, R.N., health department nurse has assisted 20 diabetics of specialized training in diabetes education.

This service is made available by a Diabetes Team Program sponsored by the WFTD District Health Department. Mrs. Rose is the designated nurse at the Nicholas County Health Department who is part of that team. Other team members are Mrs. Justina Wilkerson, R.N., and Mrs. Margaret Cooke-Nease, R.D. of WFTD.

The program is designed to assist diabetics. —Marjory photo.