Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

Right now I guess we are all busy with getting our homes cleaned and settled for the summer, and most people around here are doing some sort of gardening. Be it either food for the table or food for the mind, as I call a flower garden, both are necessary. All this takes time and you don't have a lot of time to spend in the kitchen. I might suggest doing some cooking on a rainy day when you can't get out to work or when you find you have time to fix a dish that can be prepared ahead of time.

If you didn't save the recipe for Cheese Pudding when it ran in this column before, now would be a good time to fix this delicious dish. It is made the night before and refrigerated at least 12 hours before using. So you can make it while preparing the evening meal, put it in the refrigerator overnight and have the main dish for the next day ready to put in the oven.

CHEESE PUDDING

¼ cup butter or margarine
2 cups milk
3 eggs, separated
1 pound grated sharp cheese
10 slices white bread, crusts removed and cubed
1 teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon red pepper

Melt butter, add bread cubes, beaten egg yolks, milk, cheese and dry ingredients. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Add to butter-cheese mixture. Pour into buttered casserole and refrigerate at least 12 hours. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until set.

I might suggest you remove from refrigerator about 30 minutes before cooking.

*****

Here is another main dish to prepare ahead of time.

MAKE-AHEAD POTATO CASSEROLE

About 4 cups cooked cubed potatoes
1 cup cream of chicken soup
1 cup cheddar cheese
¼ cup minced onion
1 tablespoon onion juice
2 tablespoons finely cut pimiento
Salt and pepper
¼ cup buttered bread crumbs

Place layer of potatoes in bottom of greased 8x4x3½-inch loaf pan. Combine soup with cheese, minced onion and onion juice, pimiento and seasonings. Alternate layers of cheese mixture and diced potatoes in pan ending with cheese mixture on top. Edge casserole with buttered crumbs. Garnish with more pimiento strips if desired.

Refrigerate until baking time. Bake in slow oven at 325 degrees for about 45 minutes or until casserole is bubbling and lightly browned.

*****

Now is a good time to be taking stock of your freezer and using it: use foods before adding this year's fruits and vegetables.

Here is a quickie using frozen strawberries and it is delicious. For those counting calories you might like to know it has only 105 calories per serving.

STRAWBERRY FLUFF

In medium bowl with potato masher, crush two 10-ounce packages of frozen sweetened strawberries that have been thawed. In large bowl of mixer at high speed, beat 4 egg whites and 1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar until stiff peaks form. Fold berries and their juice into beaten whites. Spoon into parfait glasses. Serve at once.

You may use raspberries or any crushed fruit you like.

*****

This one using strawberries takes a bit longer to prepare but will keep longer and be ready when needed.

STRAWBERRY SQUARES

1 cup sifted flour
¼ cup brown sugar
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup butter or margarine, melted
2 egg whites
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup whipping cream or 2 cups whipped topping
1 (10-ounce) package frozen strawberries

Stir the first four ingredients together and spread evenly in a shallow baking pan. Bake 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Sprinkle ½ of these crumbs into baking pan. Combine egg whites, sugar and lemon juice in large bowl. With electric beater, beat at high speed to stiff peaks, about 10 minutes. Fold in whipped cream and partially thawed strawberries. Spoon over crumbs; top with remaining crumbs. Freeze six hours or overnight. Cut into squares and serve while still frozen.
