Schools + You = Better Education

For too many years, Kentucklans did not place a high priority on education. As a result, educational achievement was so low result, educational achievement was so low and the second of the second of education come first in Kentucky and to make hentucky first in education.

American Education Week gives us a time to focus on where we have been in education and where we are going As an individual, as a family, as an organization or a business. Take time this week to decide how you can make a difference. Join in the work toward a common goal to provide a sound education for the children of Nertucky.

You can make a difference in education in kentucky . . .
