Wraps up championship!

This khaki wrap-around skirt, modeled here by its creator, Robyn Brookshire, was judged the clothing garment among 63 entries by 4-H Club members in Unit 2 at the Kentucky State Fair. Robyn, a sixth grader at Nicholas County Elementary School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Brookshire of Carlisle. Her mother designed the blouse to complement the award winning skirt. — Mercury photo

Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

If the starting of schools leaves you cooking for only two, take heart, I have some suggestions for you.

— For larger quantity recipes you really enjoy, cook in the usual manner and freeze leftovers in serving sizes of one or two. "Freezer meals" are good to have when you are too busy to cook "from scratch."

— Loaves of bread, rolls, muffins, sandwich buns and cookies can be frozen and pieces removed as needed. Bread and rolls can be frozen in foil and go straight to the oven for heating.

— Baked cakes will keep frozen 4-6 months--You can remove pieces slice by slice as needed. Most fruit pies can be frozen for up to four months. Remove these by the slice too. For easy removal, slice before freezing.

— Build a pot of vegetable soup during the week to take advantage of leftover vegetables and meat.

PEPPER STEAK

¼ pound round steak
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/8 teaspoon ginger
1/8 teaspoon garlic powder
1 tablespoon soy sauce
½ cup beef bouillon
1 medium green pepper, cut in strips
1 medium onion, sliced

Trim fat from round steak and cut meat into thin strips. Combine cornstarch, ginger, garlic powder, soy sauce and bouillon in a one-quart casserole dish. Add meat, stir. Cover and marinate in refrigerator overnight. When ready to cook add strips of green pepper and onion. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven for 30-40 minutes. Serve over cooked rice. Serves two generously.

BAKED SPAGHETTI CASSEROLE

¼ pound cooked spaghetti
Butter or margarine
1 cup grated cheddar cheese
¼ pound ground beef, cooked and drained
15 ounce can tomato sauce
Thyme
Rosemary
Oregano
Salt and pepper
¼ cup Parmesan cheese
16 ounce can whole tomatoes

In 1½-quart casserole layer half of the spaghetti, several slices of margarine, ½ cup cheese, half of beef, half of tomato sauce, dash of thyme, rosemary, oregano, salt and pepper, ½ can tomatoes, ¼ cup Parmesan cheese. Repeat layers. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Two generous servings.

BEEF STROGANOFF

1 pound sirloin
¼ small onion, sliced
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons white wine
¼ cup beef bouillon
½ cup sour cream
1½ ounce jar sliced mushrooms
Salt and pepper to taste

Trim beef and cut into thin stripe. Season with salt and pepper. Saute beef and onion in butter. (Keep beef rare.) Remove beef and onion and keep warm. Blend cornstarch with wine and bouillon; pour into pan and bring to boiling, stirring constantly. Simmer one minute. Add small amount of warm mixture to sour cream. Stir. Add sour cream and mushrooms to pan. Simmer one minute. Stir in beef and onions. Heat through. Serve over rice or noodles. Add kitchen bouquet if a darker sauce is preferred. About three servings.

THREE-PART SERIES ON OIL KINGDOMS TO ENCORE ON KET

Five little-known but significant Arab countries on the Persian Gulf have become some of the world's wealthiest nations in per capita income. The story of these countries — Kuwait, Qatar, Bahrain, the United Arab Emirates and Oman — is portrayed in "The Oil Kingdoms," a three-program series encoring on KET Sundays at 7 p.m. beginning Sept. 9.

McCORMICK PAINTINGS AT ASBURY COLLEGE

Professor Jim McCormick, chairman of the Georgetown College art department, will open Asbury College's fall exhibition program with a show of his paintings scheduled to run Sept. 3-25 at Asbury's gallery in the student center.

McCormick will display 16 small and four large paintings on paper along with six canvases. Major influences on his work are the atmospheric and poetic works by Chinese painters and the romantic approach to nature by Constable's, Turner's and Hans Hoffman's spatial tension and spontaneous look.

ARTS/CRAFTS FESTIVAL SEPT. 21-23 IN MOREHEAD

Amateur and professional craftsmen will exhibit their works during an Arts and Crafts Festival set for Sept. 21 through Sept. 23 at the Old Rowan County Courthouse.

"We are hoping to attract a good variety of professional and amateur craftsmen for the show," said Adrian Swain, Morehead potter and festival coordinator. "We'll be looking for good, original crafts."

The event is in conjunction with the Kentucky Logging Show on Sept. 22 and 23 at MSU's Derrickson Agricultural Complex.

University of Cincinnati, and spent four years in training at the Mayo Clinic before starting his 35-year career as a surgeon in Cincinnati, also performing numerous operations at the local hospital.

He served as chief of staff at the Good Samaritan Hospital, chairman (10 years) of the advisory board of the University of Cincinnati Medical Center, founder and chairman of the Alumnal Fund, president and founder of the American Association for the Surgery of Trauma, founder and president of the Northern Society of Clinical Surgery, and is a member of the Western Surgical Association. He received the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from the University of Cincinnati and a Founder's Award from Xavier University.

In the horse world, Dr. Asbury was the first Kentuckian elected to the Jockey Club, was a founding member of Keeneland, has been on the board of the Keeneland Sales Company since its inception, served on the board of the Grayson Foundation for Equine Research, founder and president of the Ohio Valley Thoroughbred Club, horsee of the year 1976 of the Thoroughbred Club of America, honorary member of the Commonwealth Club in Cincinnati, and received the greatest Living Cincinnatian Award in 1980.

Dr. Asbury founded Forest Retreat Farm here 50 years ago. It is now presided over by his son, Dr. Taylor Asbury and manager Gail Hughes.

Forest Retreat boards horses, stands 18 stallions including Naskra and Mr. Redoy, races fillies, and sells yearlings which in some years have topped the Keeneland Summer Sales every year. One of them, Gollarullah, sold for a record price up to that time. The farm was the first to breed and sell both a Kentucky Derby winner, Determine, and a Kentucky Oaks winner, Hail to Patsy.

Forest Retreat, so named by Henry Clay, was once the home of Thomas (Stonehammer) Metcalfe, 19th governor of Kentucky. Dr. Asbury is proud of the historic restorations and his arboretum of native Kentucky trees planted on the farm.

Dr. Asbury and his wife, the former Mary Knight, also a retired doctor, have two other children — Dr. Arthur Knight Asbury of Philadelphia and Mrs. Elizabeth Asbury Stone of Cincinnati.
