NOTICE

The City of Carlisle hereby gives notice that the maximum contaminant level for coliform bacteria was exceeded during its recent reporting period of February, 1985 to the State's Division of Water. The test results for coliform bacteria (normally found in the intestinal tract of man or other warm blooded animals) indicate that some contamination had occurred. Coliform bacteria is not considered harmful, but its presence is a reliable indicator that harmful bacteria may have been present. If the presence of coliform bacteria would continue to occur, a boil water notice would be issued. Frequent testing is done to assure the quality of your drinking water.

The cause for this notice was due to extreme cold weather by freezing of chlorine lines into the building which sterilizes the water. This was corrected in two days, and we are working on the chlorinator line to see that this doesn't happen in the future. This notice is in accordance with the Kentucky Public and Semi-public water supplies regulations 401 KAR 6:015 Section 11 (3). 4-11-2tc

The Nicholas County Water District hereby gives notice that the maximum contaminant level for coliform bacteria was exceeded during its recent reporting period of February 1985 to the State's Division of Water. If the presence of coliform bacteria would continue to occur, a boil water notice would be issued. Frequent testing is done to assure the quality of your drinking water.

This was caused by the Pre & Post water lines freezing up and we were unable to feed chlorine. We thawed the lines out and then started feeding chlorine.

We have had McCoy & McCoy Lab to test the water and everything is all right now.

JTPA funds being allocated

Gov. Martha Layne Collins has announced allocation of almost $41.2 million in federal Job Training Partnership Act funds to the state's nine service delivery areas.

"These funds are vital to our economic development efforts," Collins said. "We must have a trained work force which can adapt to the needs of existing Kentucky businesses and industries and to those who are trying to attract to our state."

The money, which is administered by the Cabinet for Human Resources, will be used for programs operating between July 1, 1985 and June 30, 1986. Each area's share of JTPA dollars depends on the number of unemployed and low-income people compared to other areas of Kentucky.

"More than $28.4 million is available under Title II-A for such programs as classroom and on-the-job training and employability skills development for adults and youth," said Human Resources Secretary Al Austin. "Also, more than $12.7 million is available under Title II-B for summer youth programs this year."

Allocations to the Bluegrass service area — Anderson, Bourbon, Boyle, Clark, Estill, Fayette, Franklin, Garrard, Harrison, Jessamine, Lincoln, Madison, Mercer, Nicholas, Powell, Scott and Woodford counties — are Title II-A, $1,728,474; summer youth: $775,666.

Nature Photography Weekend at Cumberland Falls Park

Focus in on photography skills at Cumberland Falls State Park's Nature Photography weekend April 26-28. Participants of all ages can compete in slide and print categories.

The contest officially begins after check-in Friday at 3 p.m. when each contestant will be given one 36-exposure roll of Ektachrome 100 film. Latecomers may check in at 8:30 Saturday morning. Contestants are then off in search of the perfect picture, to be taken within 20 miles of the park.

While photographers aren't busy focusing lenses and clicking shutters, they can attend evening workshops and slide shows. A wiener roast Saturday night will cap off a day full of fun. An exhibition of the winning entries and the presentation of awards will take place Sunday morning.

The competition is limited to 200 entrants, so participants are urged to promptly sign up and pay the $15 registration fee. Lodge rooms are $41.95 for double occupancy and cottages are $50.87. Information: Call 1-628-4121.

Crop weather: Rain needed

Warm, dry weather prevailed and farmers were able to average 4.6 days in the field. The sunshine combined with southerly winds to dry fields sufficiently and farmers were active in land preparation and corn planting.

Soils have dried to the point that 29 percent of the state is reported short of moisture, 54 percent adequate and 11 percent surplus. Dry topsoil is most prevalent in the Bluegrass area of Kentucky, but shortages stretch as far south as Bowling Green and as far north as Owensboro and Lewis counties on the Ohio border.

With the early spring, progress of farm work is reported on schedule or ahead of normal by 88 percent of the reporters.

CORN PLANTING advanced to 20 percent complete by April 21. This compares to three percent a year ago and eight percent for the average. Corn planting is the most advanced for this date since 1977.

Nearly 15 percent of the tobacco beds have plants emerged. Plants are in generally good condition, but many beds are requiring watering. Plants in a few early beds appear to be damaged by the early freeze or possibly fertilizer burn. The very warm, early spring could push plants to where they would have to be set earlier than usual.

Wheat and barley are reported in very good condition. Earliest fields are beginning to head and the advanced stage of development could be a problem if they receive freezing temperatures.

Alfalfa hay stands vary from four inches to 20 inches. Established alfalfa fields are making rapid growth and it appears the first cutting will be early. Alfalfa weevil infestation is heavy and many fields are being sprayed. Quite a number of new alfalfa fields have been seeded. Pastures are good to excellent. Rain would benefit pastures especially in northern Kentucky and throughout the central Bluegrass.
