Horse Park sleigh rides

If mother nature's holiday gift to Kentuckians this year is three or more inches of snow, bundle up and head out to the Kentucky Horse Park in Lexington where horse-drawn sleigh rides will take park visitors on tours of the park. Weather permitting, sleigh rides are available at $1.50 per person from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesdays through Sundays through December 22.

When the snow flies...

Road clearing priorities

When the snow begins to fall in Nicholas County and causes roads to become slick and hazardous, the state transportation crew from the Flemingsburg District Office will be out early to clear the roads.

"We want our highway crews out on the roads as soon as the first snowflake falls," said Gov. Martha Layne Collins. "This year we want fast, effective snow removal."

To help motorists plan their winter driving, the Transportation Cabinet has announced the following priorities.

The transportation crew will clear U.S. 68, KY 22, KY 36 and KY 1450 first. The next roads to be cleared will be priority B and then priority C, as shown on the accompanying map.

Roads are cleared as soon as precipitation becomes significant. Crews set out with salt or plows to clear the top priority roads first. The priority system is based on the traffic carried by the road.

Priority A roads include interstates, parkways, urban expressways and other state roads with exceptionally large volumes of traffic. Priority B roads are state primary roads, bypasses and roads with slightly less traffic than Priority A roads. State secondary roads, rural secondary roads and other routes with equal traffic fall into Priority C category.

Remaining state roads are cleared after these categories have been treated.

Motorists can plan their trips more safely by using Priority A roads whenever possible during bad weather.

Police crackdown on drunks, drugged

The second annual "D" Day on Kentucky highways will be observed from 4 p.m. Friday 13 to 3 a.m. Saturday. According to Captain A.D. Fortner, for those 13 hours an intensified effort will be made by state and local police agencies all over the country to remove the drunk and drugged driver from the roads.

The concentrated enforcement effort by State Police troopers at Dry Ridge Post 6 will include sobriety checkpoints and DUI patrols on high density traffic and high-accident rate roadways.

"The bottom line," Fortner added, "is to save lives."

Truck destroyed

A 1979 Dodge pickup truck belonging to Stanley Frederick, Moorefield Road, was destroyed by fire Friday, December 6. The Nicholas County Fire Department responded to the 7:36 p.m. alarm. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Dr. Mathias contributes to new book on governors

Dr. Frank F. Mathias, of the University of Dayton and Carlisle, is a contributing author to a volume just published by the University Press entitled Kentucky's Governors: 1792-1985.

The new book, edited by Lowell Harrison, traces the historical development of the office of governor under Kentucky's four constitutions. It will be a basic source for Kentucky's history for decades to come.

Thirty-three scholars contributed biographical sketches of each governor with emphasis upon the governor's administration.

Mathias wrote his part of the book on Governors Thomas "Stonehammer" Metcalfe, John Breathitt, and James T. Morehead. Metcalfe lived most of his adult life at his Nicholas County estate named Forest Retreat.

Kentucky's Governors will soon be in the library.

Jobless rates rose in 85 Kentucky counties between September and October, according to figures released by the Cabinet for Human Resources. In 27 counties the rates were lower in October and in eight the rates were the same as in September.

Nicholas reported 8.3 percent jobless in October, up from 8.9 in September.

Seventy-one counties reported unemployment rates of 10.0 percent or higher in October, compared to62 in September and 47 in October 1984.

Compared to October 1984, 86 counties reported higher rates, 33 had lower rates and in one county the rate was the same.

Higher jobless figures on the local level mirrored the rise in the statewide unemployment rate, which rose from a revised 8.9 percent in September to a preliminary 9.2 percent in October. Nationally the rate decreased from 6.9 percent in September to 6.8 percent in October.

Since October, KET's new GED Study-at-Home project has enrolled students from 95 percent of Kentucky's 120 counties. Currently, only seven percent of Kentucky's counties have no students enrolled in the program.

More than 6,200 adults have inquired and have been prescreened in a telephone interview since enrollment began in September. From these inquiries, KET enrolled 1,150 adults for the October start date, including five from Nicholas County, and for the January 7 start date, 224 adults currently are enrolled. A third start date will begin in April. Students may register by calling 1-800-KET-4-GED.
