Alcohol related deaths on decline in Kentucky

Drunk drivers kill!

In fact, in 1984 drinking drivers were responsible for almost half of the traffic fatalities which occurred in Kentucky. That's a sobering fact which drug and alcohol abuse experts say should be on the minds of Kentucky motorists during the holiday season.

Last year, 333 of the 767 Kentuckians who died on the state's highways were involved in alcohol-related accidents," said Dianne McAvoy, of the Department for Mental Health and Mental Retardation Services Division of Substance Abuse.

During the traditional Christmas-New Year's Day party season of 1984, 13 of Kentucky's 21 traffic fatalities involved an intoxicated motorist.

"With increased public awareness of the dangers of driving while under the influence of alcohol or drugs, the number of alcohol-related deaths on the state's highways are showing a decline," said McAvoy. "Last year, there were 13 percent fewer deaths in accidents where alcohol was involved than in 1983, while the number of injuries was down 10 percent."

McAvoy noted that several positive steps are being taken to help reduce the number of drunk drivers on Kentucky's highways, most notably the "Slammer Bill" which was passed by the 1984 Kentucky General Assembly and took effect in July 1984. Organizations such as Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) and Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) have drawn national attention to the problem.

IRS offers taxpayer assistance

The IRS wants to bring taxpayer assistance to you. In an effort to inform Kentucky taxpayers about federal tax law changes and tax filing requirements, the Internal Revenue Service will send a person to talk to your group or organization about federal taxes.

Those interested should call the IRS Outreach coordinator for Kentucky toll free at 1-800-424-1040.

Burley yield per acre up slightly

Kentucky burley tobacco production for 1985 is expected to total 412.8 million pounds, 16 percent below last year, but 19 percent above the Agricultural Adjustment quota. The Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said yield is estimated at 2,400 pounds per acre, compared to 2,240 pounds last year and the record 2,475 in 1978. Harvested acreage fell 18 percent to 172,000 acres.

Kentucky's 1985 burley crop benefited from an early spring and favorable weather during much of the growing season. Setting began much earlier than normal and as a result the crop developed at a better than normal pace throughout the summer.

Arrangements can also be made for an IRS employee to give guidance in the self-help preparation of tax returns.

If your business organization, farm group, club or other organization wants to have an IRS person discuss tax requirements or guide in the preparation of your tax return, you should contact the IRS.

Men 18-25 required to register

The Selective Service System reaches an important milestone in the registration of young men on Jan. 1, 1986.

Beginning on this date, men who were required in 1980 to register with Selective Service will be turning 26. Selective Service does not have the authority to accept registrations of men after they turn 26. Men who failed to register will have permanently forfeited their right to certain Federal student aid and job training benefits as well as Federal employment.

Additionally, registration with Selective Service is a requirement in some states for various employment opportunities.

Men born in 1960 who have registered, will reach age 26 in 1986 and, under present law, will no longer be eligible for selection for induction. Over 15 million men, age 18 through 25, have registered with Selective Service since President Carter initiated registration in 1980.

Many who are nonregistrants may be unaware of the requirement or do not understand the importance of the obligation to register. Some have served in the military but failed to register either before entering the Armed Forces or after leaving active duty. Others may have been incarcerated at the time of their 18th birthday and not realized they were required to register if released from custody prior to age 26.

Men age 18 to 25 who have not yet registered should register promptly to avoid prosecution and/or loss of benefits. Registration takes only five minutes at any post office. Failure to register is a felony, punishable by a fine of up to $250,000 and/or up to five years imprisonment.

'Project Challenge' announced

Nicholas County's high school students will be able to design an experiment to be conducted in outer space if they participate in Project Challenge.

The program was created to involve Kentucky high school students in science and technology, particularly space technology," according to Lt. Gov. Steven L. Beshear.

Project Challenge is an ed'ucational program co-sponsored by IBM and Kentucky Tomorrow-The Commission on Kentucky's Future," created and chaired by Beshear.

The contest is open to all students in grades nine through 12 in Kentucky's public, parochial or private schools.

THE STATE has been divided into six contest regions and a winning and runner-up experiment will be chosen from each region. The six winning experiments will be flown aboard a NASA space shuttle in the spring of 1987.

"Project Challenge information has been sent to all Kentucky high schools," Beshear said. Experiment proposals are to be submitted by Jan. 31, 1986 and the winners are to be announced in March 1986.

Technical advisers are available in each of the six regions to assist students and teachers with the development of their experiments.

"NASA has agreed to reserve VIP passes for winning students so they can see their experiments launched from the Kennedy Space Center," Beshear said.

More information about the contest is available from high school science teachers or by writing Project Challenge, 612B Shelby Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Explain science project

Lieutenant Governor Steven L. Beshear and NASA astronaut Dr. Story Musgrave, in front of microphone, visited eight high schools in two days recently to explain Project Challenge, a science contest for Kentucky high school students. The contest is open to all Kentucky high school students and winners from six regions of the state will have their experiments conducted aboard a 1987 NASA space shuttle.
