

Bob Watkins Sports in Kentucky

People and things writer last week's special section in no uncertain terms that the reporter used other hands were "not to get" new Kentucky basketball coach Eddie Sutton "only because he has replaced Joe B. Hall."

Certainly, Coach Hall will be in a tattered (and somewhat) state of mind when he returns to the "other hand" but I remain hopeful that he will see the wisdom of getting out and winning 176 fans of only learn that basketball in Kentucky and the fact knowledge of it and devotion to it is remarkable and special.

So far reasons given for Sutton's ineligibility have to do with a foul schedule.

And yet, according to a report in the June 18 edition of The Sportsman, Sutton was willing to make himself available this summer to the University of Arkansas and new coach Nolan Richardson to help design 1986 basketball for the program before taking the UK job. Arkansas officials visited the site but that, coupled with the news "negotiations" over which Sutton's emergency Sutton will give his autograph to the boys over the summer of the coach's priorities.

Considering how much Sutton has gone to make from the Commonwealth already, good relations with UK fans would seem to be a more important, particularly considering that the Wildcats could be more than a little angry winter game. The Wildcats are to be more than a little angry winter game. The Wildcats are to be more than a little angry winter game.

Highly, the rumor is true that Sutton will be in the state this summer along with old friend and Kentucky native Dave Caswell (now with the NCAA) to help with the UK files.

After watching UK game films from last season, Sutton predicts that the Wildcats "are going to get an early start on the season. I've never enjoyed the challenge of playing the top teams. I'm looking forward to it."

The coach calls Kenny Walker "probably one of the most exciting players I've ever seen."

Kennedy gets into the 1985 season as college basketball's winged unicorn. UK has 1,276 victories, 48 losses, for a remarkable 76.3 percent. The Wildcats have not had a losing season in 19 years, another NCAA record.

Letters

In a recent column, I suggested that UK officials had not been sensitive enough to its former basketball letterman, Ky. Bill Ayers, from Frankfort, Ky. Bill Ayers writes, "I would like to correct you on one point. For at least the last 10 years, I have been a member of the UK Athletic Club. I have been a member of the UK Athletic Club. I have been a member of the UK Athletic Club."

Arnolds present trophies

The Kentucky Thoroughbred Development Fund, part of the Kentucky Harness Racing Commission, sponsors these races to help Kentucky breed colts and fillies, to encourage the breeding of stakes-colored standbreds. The spring meet continues through June 29.
