Mrs. Douglas Alan Vaughn

The Carlisle Christian Church is scene of Mynear-Vaughn vows

Miss Sharon Kay Mynear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Mynear of Carlisle, and Douglas Alan Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vaughn of Hawesville, were married June 15, 1985 at the Carlisle Christian Church.

The Reverend Wendall O. McKee officiated at the ceremony.

Sharon Murrell was vocalist. Patricia Ockerman was pianist and Suelyn Berry was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white chiffonella gown, the bodice fronted in Point d'Spirit and Re-embroidered lace. The fitted bodice featured a high neckline that gave way to the full Bishop's sleeves. The gala circular skirt flowed from the natural waistline into a chapel length train. A camelot headpiece fronted in seed pearls held a fingertip illusion veil. She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and bridal stephanotis.

Rita Mattox, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Jodi Mountz, Carol Taylor and Linda Richardson were bridesmaids. They all were floor length daphne rose gowns made of taffeta with fitted bodice and double flounced neckline. They carried spring bouquets of white daisies and miniature pink carnations.

Anthony Newman of Lexington was best man. Steve Mynear, brother of the bride, Blaine Morris and Paul Saalman, brothers-in-law of the groom, were ushers.

Jennifer Earlywine was flower girl and William Allen Earlywine was ring bearer.

The bride's mother wore a two-tone beige silk street length dress with a corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother wore a cream color linen suit with a corsage of pink roses.

Donna Broderick, Sharon Hudnall, Debbie Sturgill, Mary Ann Evans and Debbie Roe served at the reception held at the Carnico Country Club.

Janet Vaughn, sister of the groom, stood at the guest book.

The bride is employed by Mallinckrodt Inc.

The groom is employed by Computerland of Richmond.

After a wedding trip to Ft. Myers, Florida, the couple will reside in Paris.

Academy award-winner 'Stone Carvers' on KET

"The Stone Carvers," the 1985 Academy Award-winner for Best Documentary Short Subject produced by native Kentuckian Paul Wagner and Marjorie Hunt, profiles the immigrant craftsmen who have been carving the statues, gargoyles, angels and assorted grace notes into the stones of the Washington Cathedral.

This 30-minute documentary airs Thursday, July 4 at 9:30 p.m. on KET.

Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

This week the recipes from the Southeast Dairy Association are for a vegetable-cheese salad and a fruit gelatin salad with a special dressing. Too, I have included a spread for crackers that will go nicely with the salads.

CHEESE AND VEGETABLE SALAD

1 package (8 oz.) Swiss cheese, cut in matchstick-size pieces
1 large green pepper, cut in julienne strips
2 green onions, thinly sliced
2 cups thinly sliced celery
2 cups shredded carrots
1 jar (4 oz.) diced pimentos, drained
¼-1 cup slivered almonds
1 carton (8 oz.) dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons Dijon-style mustard
4 drops hot pepper sauce
Salt
Pepper

In large salad bowl, toss together cheese, pepper, onions, celery, carrots, pimentos and almonds. In small mixing bowl, blend together sour cream, mustard, hot sauce and desired amounts of salt and pepper. Pour over vegetables and toss to blend.

FRUIT GELATIN MOLD WITH LEMON HONEY DRESSING

Fruit Mold:
1 can (11 oz.) mandarin orange segments
1 can (16 oz.) pineapple chunks
1 package (6 oz.) orange gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1¼ cups ginger ale
2 packages (3 oz. each) cream cheese
½ cup minced walnuts
12 maraschino cherries
Lettuce leaves

Drain orange segments and pineapple chunks; reserve 1 cup syrup. In large bowl, dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add reserved syrup and ginger ale. Chill until slightly thickened. Cut each package of cream cheese into 12 small squares. Roll each square between palms of hands to form ball. Roll in minced walnuts, pressing lightly to make walnuts adhere. Chill. Drain cherries on paper towel. Arrange cheese balls and cherries in bottom of 1½ quart ring mold. Spoon over just enough thickened gelatin to hold in place; refrigerate. Fold fruit into remaining gelatin mixture; let stand at room temperature. When gelatin in mold is almost set, fill with remaining gelatin-fruit mixture. Chill until set. Unmold onto chilled lettuce lined serving plate. Serve with Lemon Honey Dressing.

Dressing:
1 carton (8 oz.) dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons sugar
Dash salt

Place all ingredients into small deep mixing bowl. Whisk until well-blended. Refrigerate several hours to blend flavors.

SESAME-CHEESE APPETIZER SPREAD

1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
1-2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
½ teaspoon soy sauce
1/8 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons toasted sesame seeds
Crackers

In small, deep mixing bowl, beat cream cheese and Cheddar cheese until smooth. Add sour cream for desired consistency. Add soy sauce, salt and sesame seeds; blend well. Serve with crackers.

To toast sesame seeds: Spread seeds in baking pan. Bake at 325 degrees F. about five minutes or until golden brown.

FHA members attend meet

Future Homemakers of America state and regional officers from the Nicholas County High chapter were among the 675 officers and advisers attending the 31st Annual Leadership Training Conference of the Kentucky Association of FHA held at the Leadership Training Center in Harrodsburg on June 9-12.

Those attending were Carla Hall, regional reporter, Pam Kirby, regional recreation leader, and advisers Martha Taylor and Bonnie Metcalf.

The purpose of the conference was to train state and regional officers in the duties and responsibilities of their offices and hold state and regional executive council meetings in which plans for the coming year were made.

The theme for the conference was "We Are The World — We Are The Leaders." The keynote speaker at the opening session was Dr. Treva Mitchell, home economics teacher from Georgetown College. Her subject was "The Greatest Gifts of All Leaders" in which she explained leadership traits needed by all successful officers.

Tommy Wade, national FBLA president from Hardin County, explained the importance of a business education in his talk entitled, "Taking Care of Business."

Susan Warren, national FHA/HERO officer from Webster County, addressed all members and advisers before the officer training sessions. She challenged officers to make the most of their time while in office and to take advantage of the opportunities for personal growth and leadership.

Health Tips

from Lee Rose

Toddler nutrition

The development of eating patterns is very important in the first five years of life. During the toddler years between one and three the appetite drops off dramatically since these children are not growing as fast as the infant.

These children do well with finger foods and soft foods that will be easily eaten with a spoon, such as cereal and mashed potatoes that cling to a spoon. They will not eat three big meals a day, and a good idea is to give them nutritious foods when they are hungry, rather than adhering to a schedule. Some easy to prepare nutritious foods are raisins, cheese, whole grain crackers, cut up fruits, and smooth peanut butter. Raw vegetables must be used with caution, as the toddler may choke and breathe it into his lungs. Because the toddler's appetite is small, sugary snacks should be avoided, since the sugar will reduce their appetite further and it provides no food value.

Toddlers still need soft meats such as chicken, fish, frankfurters or hamburger. They will not be able to chew a steak well. Plain foods without sugar, salt, gravy or grease will still be preferred and will be better for your child.

One to three-year-olds will not eat a balanced diet in a day, but their diet will balance out over a week. Food "jags" are also common in this age group, and your child may refuse a favorite food for weeks.

An important thing to remember is that eating is still messy at this age, even though your toddler can handle a spoon and cup fairly well. Try not to scold; keep the child's mealtime pleasant whether he or she eats with the family or alone.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Cropper, April and Christy

Reception welcomes Methodist minister

The Carlisle United Methodist Church held a reception Sunday evening, June 16, to welcome Rev. Paul Cropper and his family. The reception was held at 8 p.m. so that neighboring congregations could attend after their services. The serving table was decorated in green and yellow. Punch and cake was served along with nuts and mints.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Alexander were in the receiving line with Rev. Cropper, his wife Fay and their two daughters April and Christy. Those serving at the table were Mrs. Phyllis Darrell, Mrs. Ruth Hollar, Mrs. Lillian Letcher, Mrs. Marie Lowe and Mrs. Marie Crawford.

The Croppers moved here recently from Washington, Ky. He was born in Lewis County and lived in Fleming County, where he graduated from Fleming County High School in 1968. He was in a family-owned grocery business for eight years before entering Asbury College in 1967. He received his Theological degree from Asbury Seminary in 1974. Nearly all of his ministry has been in the Maysville district.

He served student appointments in Lodi, Fleming, Bath and Mason counties. His first full-time appointment was the Germantown and Salem charge in Mason County. One and one-half years was spent at Falmouth in the Covington district, where he also served Allen's Chapel, a black congregation.

Mrs. Cropper has been employed with Blue Grass Industries for 14 years. She has worked at the plants in Maysville and at Cynthiana as well as Carlisle. She is a graduate of Tollesboro High School and the Ashland Beauty School. Her interests in addition to her family and work include sewing, reading and making quilts.

April is the oldest daughter. She will be a sophomore this fall at Kent State University, where she is major in aerospace technology. She is a licensed private pilot, and is presently working on her commercial license.

Christy, 12, will enroll in the seventh grade at Nicholas County. She is taking piano and loves to sing. Some of her other interests include reading, swimming and sports.

Homemakers clubs meet

East Union

The East Union Homemakers held their regular monthly meeting Thursday night at the home of Viola Sapp. The meeting was called to order and the devotion was given by Mrs. Sapp. Roll call was answered by naming somewhere you would like to go on vacation.

There were 16 people present. Monthly reports were taken. A family life lesson on fathers was given by Lorella Stevenson. Announcements were made by Mrs. Wilson on the things to do and the trips being planned. The lesson on depression was presented by Sue Bell.

There will be no July meeting but will meet in August at the home of Julia Boyd for a family picnic.

Ellisville

Our club met June 5 at the home of Lena Faye Tincher. Martha Paul, president, called the meeting to order.

The devotional was given by Patsy Smoot. Roll call was taken by the secretary and was answered by a dream vacation we would like to take. Treasurer's report was given by Josephine Hughes. All reports were taken by club chairmen.

A potluck lunch was served and enjoyed by 17 members.

The lesson on depression was given by Ruth King. Following the lesson everyone enjoyed games led by Elaine Moore.

Next month our club will meet at Blue Licks State Park for meeting and auction.

Miranda

Mrs. Edgar A. Darrell was hostess to the Miranda Homemakers Club Wednesday, June 12 at her home on Whetstone Road.

Mrs. Betty Tabor, president, presided over the meeting. The devotional was given by Mrs. Nancy Shaw. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The roll call was answered by 15 members naming a place they would like to go. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Darrell. Calendars for the coming year were filled out. The family picnic July 16 will be at the home of Mrs. Sally Watkins.

Mrs. Wilson gave the lesson on depression. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Our next regular meeting will be in September at the home of Mrs. Liver.
