Mr. and Mrs. Mark Allen Fryman

Ritchie-Fryman vows exchanged at Carlisle Christian Church

Miss Susan Denise Ritchie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ritchie Jr., and Mark Allen Fryman, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Fryman, were united in marriage on Saturday, June 1 at 7:30 p.m. at the Carlisle Christian Church.

The Reverend Wendell McKee performed the double ring, candlelight ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown fashioned from white silk chiffon over taffeta. The gown featured a fitted waist and bodice with the bodice trimmed with venice lace, tiny seed pearls and garland sequence. The neckline was Queen Anne styled trimmed with lace. The sleeves were sheer chiffon, gathered full, trimmed with pearls and lace and a lace cuff at wrist. The skirt of chiffon featured medallions of lace trim and the front skirt caught up with fabric rosettes with a chiffon ruffle at hemline trimmed with lace. Panels of lace decorated the back of skirt that was cathedral length. She carried a silk bouquet of rose, pink and burgundy color with white and pink ribbon. Her veil was of a finger length length with headpiece featuring tiny seed pearls.

Ms. Glenda Hunt, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a burgundy gown of quiana with a sheer short cape. She carried a white lace fan with silk flowers.

Mrs. Kathy Murrell, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a burgundy dress identical to the maid of honor and also carried the white lace fan with the silk flowers.

Kim Smoot, Eva Gray and Rita Fightmaster served as bridesmaids. They wore dresses identical to the maid and matron of honor of the rose color. They also carried white lace fans with the silk flowers.

Miss Krystal Hitchie, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl.

Jason Avery served as best man. Dale Ritchie, Mike Cassity, David Hollaran and Timmy Liversgood served as ushers. Master Joshua Fryman, son of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Miss Becky Fryman, cousin of the groom, attended the guest register.

Mrs. Malinda Haney served as organist and Mrs. Brenda Lawrence as soloist.

Master Wesley Hunt, nephew of the bride, distributed rice bags.

After a trip the couple is residing in Carlisle.

Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

This is the last of the recipes from the Southeast United Dairy Industry Association, Inc. in Atlanta The recipes are used in observing June Dairy Month.

WONDERFUL PEANUT BUTTER FUDGE

4 cups sugar
1 cup milk
1 jar (18 oz.) smooth peanut butter
1 jar (7oz.) marshmallow creme

Place sugar and milk in heavy 3-quart saucepan. Heat over medium heat, whisking frequently, until mixture comes to a boil. Boil for two minutes, remove from heat. Stir in peanut butter until smooth. Add marshmallow creme and continue to stir until well blended. Pour into a buttered 9 x 13-inch pan. Place on wire rack; let cool until firm. Cut into desired size pieces.

VARIATION: Crunchy peanut butter can be substituted for smooth to obtain a nutty taste.

HINT: To cut smoothly, dip a thin bladed knife in very hot water as often as necessary.

CHOCOLATE CANDY BAR MUFFINS

2 cups (4 sticks) butter
1 bar (8 oz.) plain chocolate candy
3½ cups sugar
2 cups all-purpose flour
1/8 teaspoon salt
4 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
4 cups coarsely chopped pecans

Preheat oven to 325 degrees F. Line muffin pans (2½' x 1¼-inch) with paper muffin cups. Place butter and candy bar in top of double boiler; melt over simmering water. In large bowl, whisk together sugar, flour and salt. Stir in chocolate mixture. Add eggs and vanilla; mix just until ingredients are evenly moistened. Fold in pecans. Fill muffin cups ⅔ full. Bake 40 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Let cool in muffin pans 10 minutes.

BAKED PEAR DESSERT

1 cup all-purpose flour
½ cup (1 stick) butter
4 medium pears
½ cup sugar
4 scoops vanilla ice cream

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Place flour in small, deep mixing bowl. Cut butter into flour with pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal; set aside. Peel and core pears; finely dice. Place in lightly buttered 9-inch pie plate. Sprinkle sugar over pears. Pour flour and butter mixture on top and smooth with spatula. Bake for 50-55 minutes or until lightly browned. Place on wire rack to cool slightly, about 10 minutes. Loosen edge with thin bladed knife; cut into 6 slices. Serve warm topped with a scoop of ice cream.

PEACH DUMPLINGS

½ cup sugar
½ cup water
1½ cups all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup (½ stick) butter
¾-½ cup milk
4 medium size fresh peaches, pared and halved
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Milk or half and half

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Combine ½ cup sugar and ½ cup water in a small saucepan; bring to a boil. Whisk to dissolve sugar; set aside. Combine flour, baking powder and salt in small deep mixing bowl; whisk to blend. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse meal. Gradually add milk, mixing with a fork, until flour is moistened. Gather up dough with fingers and press into a ball. Roll dough on lightly floured surface to a 10 x 20-inch rectangle. Cut into 8 five-inch squares. Place a peach half on each. Combine ¼ cup sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon; sprinkle 1 heaping teaspoon on each peach. Bring opposite corners of pastry to center; pinch edges to seal. Place in a buttered 2quart shallow baking dish; pour sugar and water mixture around dumplings. Bake 30-35 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve warm with milk or half and half.

VARIATION: Substitute pared apple halves or thirds for peaches.

Health Tips from Lee Rose

Weaning

"Parents must make the decision together about when to wean their baby from the breast or bottle. Below are some things to think about when making this decision.

"Parents may consider weaning when the baby is approximately one year old. Nine months is not a good time because the baby is going through a developmental stage that makes him more frightened about leaving his parents, he needs the comfort of sucking during this time. When you decide to begin weaning, your baby should have been drinking from a cup for several months, but the baby will still not have good control of the cup.

When you choose to begin weaning eliminate the breast or bottle-feeding the baby is least interested in, for example the noon or afternoon feeding. After the baby has become used to the elimination of that feeding, take away another feeding such as the morning feeding. Eliminate only one breast or bottle-feeding at a time.

Plan to spend extra time with your baby during the weaning process, holding, singing and playing with your baby. If your baby becomes irritable do not revert to the breast or bottle-feeding. When you finally get to one feeding a day, it may be wise to let your child decide when to give up the last feeding, which is usually the night feeding. Have a problem may result, if the baby is bottle-fed and takes the bottle to bed.

Your baby may be very reluctant to give up the night bottle and the parents may have to make the decision to stop the last feeding. When the night bottle is taken away your baby may be very fussy for about a week, and this can be very stressful for families. Be aware of this and try to get extra rest and be patient. During this fussy period at night let your baby know you are there and check and comfort him or her every 15-20 minutes until the baby goes to sleep. Once you have taken the bottle away do not give it back and put them out of sight so the baby cannot find them.

If you have been breast-feeding your baby and have gradually introduced solid foods your milk supply should be adequately reduced that as you eliminate a feeding your milk supply will adjust and breast engorgement will not occur.

Some important points to remember when weaning: (1) Begin weaning slowly; (2) Be patient; (3) It is less detrimental to be slow to wean than to wean too quickly; (4) Do not try to wean if there is severe family stress such as a divorce or death.

Nicholas Historical Society hears Rev. Albert Sweazy

Rev. Albert W. Sweazy of Lexington, conference treasurer and director of fiscal affairs for the Methodist Church, was guest speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Nicholas County Historical Society June 20 at the Carlisle Depot.

Rev. Sweazy, elected to the nine-member judicial council by the general conference of 1984 in Baltimore for an eight-year term, entertained a crowd of over 75 persons with a witty, off-the-cuff compilation of early Carlisle and Nicholas County history.

He is the son of the late Rev. C.A. Sweazy, pastor of the Carlisle Methodist Church from 1935-38. The younger Sweazy was a 16-year-old senior at Carlisle High School when the family moved here in the fall of 1935.

Rev. Sweazy was introduced by Mrs. Ruth Hollar, program chairman at the membership meeting. (His speech was taped and will be featured in a forthcoming issue of The Mercury.)

Homemakers

Moorefield

The Moorefield Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Mariam Williams Friday, June 14, for the regular meeting.

Mrs. James Hamm called the meeting to order. The devotional was given by Mrs. Bobby Moreland reading a poem, "Lord Why Me" and closing with the Lord's Prayer.

The roll was called with 11 members and one visitor in attendance. The minutes were read and approved. A report on finances was also given by Mrs. Michelle Skidmore.

New officers were named as follows: Mrs. Charity Griffith, president; Mrs. Ruth Alice Gunn, vice president; Mrs. Wanda Mathes, secretary and treasurer.

A family picnic at Blue Licks Park was planned for July 19 at 6:30. Calendars and buttonwax were filled out for the coming year. Mrs. Wilson announced the different workshops that would be held and dates of each.

The Hospital Benefit dinner will be June 28, cost per plate $5.

A very interesting lesson, "Let Go of Your Depression" was given by Mrs. W.J. Clark.

A social hour followed and delicious refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served by our hostess.

Parks

The June meeting of the Parks Homemakers was held at The Depot in Flemingsburg for dinner.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Charley Crawford. The devotional was given by Mrs. Herbert McClanahan. There were 11 members and Mrs. Margie Wilson present. The minutes were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Elzie Sloan.

Mrs. McClanahan read a letter from Mrs. Linda Linville thanking her for having her to present slides and a program on cancer. Mrs. Elzie Sloan gave out family life leaflets and calendars were filled out for the coming year. Mrs. Wilson gave the lesson on depression.

Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Eula Carter at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 9.

Another program highlight was a piano rendition of "The Temptors March," written by the late Dr. E. W. Wise, a former Carlisle resident and Oklahoma dentist. Mrs. Harry D. Galbraith played from the original manuscript, written for all parts of a band and featured by Barnum Brothers and Bailey Circus and marching bands throughout the country. The manuscript, a recent acquisition, was donated to the society by W.B. Griffin of Lexington.

Four new directors — Henry Potts Young, Eugene Neal, Dorothy Neal and Gerald Watkins — were elected during the business meeting. Reelected directors include Nell Poline, Pat Allison, Joan Conley, Bill Power, Carol Power, Lutie Layson, G.C. Myers, Phyllis Darrell, Naomi Dale and Ruth Hollar. Resigning directors were Jimmy Shrout, Rob Lane, Sherry Howard and Betty Moss.

New officers were to have been elected Monday night.

Highlights of the year were reviewed and a membership of 350 persons was reported by Joannie Conley. Flower barrels in front of the depot were donated by Mrs. Lewis Gibson of Lexington in memory of her father, H.H. Hinton.

Fish/Game potluck

The Nicholas County Fish and Game Club will have a potluck supper Friday, June 28, 7:30 p.m. at the club.

All members are urged to attend.
