Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

With the busy holiday season practically here, and no one has time to spend the entire day in the kitchen, I have a few suggestions to make preparing meals easier, be it for family or guests.

A topping or sauce will give a lift to most vegetables. The sauces are easy to make with sour cream, condensed soup and grated cheese.

JIFFY CHEESE TOPPING

Simply shred sharp process American cheese directly onto the hot vegetable. The cheese will melt quickly. Do use process cheese because it melts faster. Tis is perfect over cauliflower.

If you do not have the processed cheese on hand, simply grate cheddar cheese over the vegetable. You may have to pop it in a hot oven (400 degrees) for a few minutes to melt the cheese.

MUSHROOM CHEESE SAUCE

1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ cup milk
1 cup shredded sharp cheese

Combine soup and milk; heat through. Add the cheese and stir until melted. Makes 1½ cups sauce. Good on a variety of vegetables.

VELVET CHEESE SAUCE

1 cup grated sharp cheese
¼ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup sour cream
Dash of paprika

Combine the cheese and mayonnaise; heat over low heat till cheese melts. Blend in the sour cream and heat through. Add paprika.

For extra smooth sauce, beat with rotary beater just before serving. Makes 1 cup of sauce. Serve hot over hot vegetables.

MOCK HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

¼ cup mayonnaise
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind

Mix together mayonnaise, milk, salt and pepper in saucepan. Cook over very low heat, stirring constantly, until heated. Stir in lemon juice and rind.

Serve with asparagus, artichokes, broccoli or cauliflower. Makes 1¼ cups.

BLUE CHEESE SAUCE FOR VEGETABLES

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
½ teaspoon paprika
1 cup milk
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons cream or milk
¼ cup Parmesan cheese, grated
¼ cup crumbled blue cheese

Melt butter over low heat. Stir in flour and seasoning. Slowly stir in milk and cook, stirring until thickened and smooth. Beat egg yolk and cream together. Add a little of the hot cream sauce to the egg mixture, then return all to hot cream sauce and mix well. Blend in cheeses.

May be made ahead of time and reheated in double boiler. Pour over vegetables and garnish with additional crumbled blue cheese and/or toasted, buttered bread crumbs.

CREAM CHEESE

If you are really in a hurry use cream cheese melted over very low heat. To thin the sauce for vegetables add 2 tablespoons of milk to 3 ounces of cream cheese.

Thanksgiving revival set at Little Rock

Thanksgiving revival services will be held at the Little Rock Christian Church Nov. 22-24. Donald A. Nash, professor of New Testament at Kentucky Christian College in Grayson, will be the evangelist.

Nash has authored several books, contributed to numerous religious publications and his Greek textual studies are used in several colleges.

Time of services and topics are as follows: Friday, 7:30 p.m., How Will You Die; Saturday, 7 p.m., The Question God Can't Answer; Sunday, 9:30 a.m., coffee and donuts, 10 a.m., Sunday school, 10:45 a.m., Our Greatest Need, 5 p.m., fellowship meal, 7 p.m., What Are You Doing For Heaven's Sake.

The Sunday evening Thanksgiving offering will be a central portion of the revival. This annual harvest time offering has been instrumental in numerous improvements and additions at the Little Rock church.

Little Rock is located on Highway 537, four miles from Cane Ridge Meeting Shrine. Chuck Perry is minister.

Former resident Schwann honored by Boston U. alumni

William Schwann of Boston, formerly of Carlisle, founder, editor and publisher of the Schwann Record and Tape Guides, has received the "Distinguished Public Service to the Profession Award" from Boston University at a ceremony honoring outstanding alumni Oct. 19.

Schwann, a piano and organ virtuoso, compiled his first 26 page guide in 1949, the first and only of its kind. By 1973 the Schwann Record and Tape Guide had grown to 300 pages and had a monthly circulation of 150,000.

The Guide's 30th anniversary publication included tributes to Schwann by such renowned musicians and dignitaries as Aaron Copland, Gunther Schuller, Leonard Bernstein, as well as Boston University President John Silber.

Schwann has also been honored by the National Music Library Association and has received the George Peabody Medal for Outstanding Contributions to Music in 1984. He is an active contributor to numerous music associations, schools and performing arts companies.

His father, the late Rev. Henry Schwann, was pastor of the Carlisle Christian Church from 1926-1930. William was a member of the 1930 graduating class at Carlisle High School.

THE TRIBUTE reads as follows:

"Your work has become indispensable to everyone to whom music matters — so indispensable, in fact, that your name has passed into the language. For generations of music lovers, 'Schwann' has meant not the man but the catalog of recordings, a catalog so logically, so perfectly constructed that one cannot imagine musical life without it.

"Looking it up in the Schwann' has become vital to those who manufacture and sell recordings and to those who buy them, to composers and performers, to historians and librarians, to authors and critics, to broadcast programmers, to teachers — and by extension to every one of us who listens to music.

"The latest Schwann tells us everything there is to know about today's recordings; a complete collection of Schwanns is a chronicle of the music and the musical tastes of more than 35 years, a compendium of data on music, musicians and composers — inexpensive, readily available, absolutely reliable and constantly renewed.

"More than one prominent music professional has been moved to observe that had there been no William Schwann, no Schwann catalog, we would have had to invent them. Certainly, as the recording industry grew up, somebody would have contrived some sort of listing of available tapes and records. How fortunate that we were not forced to depend on time nor on anyone but you; how fortunate that at the very beginning of long-playing recordings there was the Schwann, because what we have come to take for granted could have been created only by Schwann.

"Today we salute not the indispensable institution but the indispensable man and echo Aaron Copland in saying that all musicians and music lovers are in your debt. The Boston University Alumni Association is proud to present the Alumni Award for Distinguished Public Service to the Profession."

Health Tips

from Lee Rose

Holiday food preparation tips

In our country, as in most, bounteous food is the center of any holiday celebration. So the memory of joyous occasions will not be marred by the effects of food poisoning, take a few precautions to store and prepare foods safely.

All foods require careful handling and storage. Hands must always be thoroughly washed before working with food. Fresh, raw vegetables and fruits are the only foods we can safely leave on the table longer than time needed to eat a meal.

Traditional Thanksgiving turkey has the potential for bacterial growth coming and going before and after cooking. A fresh turkey must be kept refrigerated no more than two days.

The frozen bird should be thawed in the refrigerator or in cold water which must be changed every 30 minutes, allowing one half hour per pound thawing time. Cook immediately after thawing in a preheated 350 degree oven. Slower cooking will permit bacteria to multiply.

IT IS SAFER to bake stuffing and dressing outside the turkey in a separate oven dish to allow adequate temperature to penetrate the bird and dressing.

Once baked, carve and serve immediately. Estimate two to three ounces per individual serving and place the remainder in small refrigerator or freezer packages prior to the feast.

Foods placed on the table or buffet for the meal should be moved to the refrigerator before the family settles into lengthy after dinner conversation.

Many times food poisoning is mistaken for flu because similar symptoms of vomiting, diarrhea, abdominal cramps and headache develop that can appear from two to 36 hours and can last one to seven days, depending on the offending organism.

MOST RECOVER without complications by avoiding solids and drinking lots of liquids until the symptoms are relieved. However, infants, the elderly and those with chronic disease should seek medical attention.

Be suspicious of food poisoning if more than one person in attendance of a particular meal develops symptoms.

Label and keep refrigerated the questionable food (being sure no one eats it) until you have contacted the Health Center for possible analysis.

Nicholas County Homemakers clubs hold meetings

Carlisle West

The Carlisle West Homemakers met Nov. 8 at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Sophia Mynear with Mrs. Ethel Ring as co-hostess.

There were 11 members and Mrs. Wilson present. We were glad to welcome Mrs. Louise Kingsolver as a new member.

The devotional was given by Miss Evelyn George. Roll call was answered by telling about our most memorable Thanksgiving. The minutes of the October meeting were read and approved and the treasurer's report given.

Mrs. Lorraine Irvin announced that we should bring our gifts for the Eastern State Hospital to our next meeting. Cultural arts and home furnishing reports were taken. The Family Life Newsletter on Thanksgiving was read to us by Mrs. Irvin.

Mrs. Wilson announced about the blood drive on Nov. 18. The Christmas parade will be Nov. 30 and the Hospital Auxiliary bazaar Dec. 7.

The lesson on refrigerator desserts was given by Mrs. Sophia Mynear and Mrs. Ethel Ring. As hostesses they served a delicious dessert using one of the recipes from our lesson, along with nuts, mints and coffee or tea.

The next meeting will be Dec. 13 in the Nicholas County Library. We will have a carry-in dinner, Christmas program and exchange of gifts.

Headquarters

Headquarters Homemakers met for their November meeting Tuesday, Nov. 7 at the home of Betsy Cleaver with Ruth Hollar as cohostess.

Dorothy Kimberling, president, called the meeting to order. Roll call was answered by 13 members giving their greatest blessing. We had one visitor, Mrs. Bernice McClanahan. Minutes of the October meeting were read and approved. Hazel Moore gave the treasurer's report.

Phyllis Darrell led the devotional on Thanksgiving, "Now Thank We All Our God," and also gave the Family Life lesson.

The December meeting will be held at Duncan Tavern with a gift exchange.

The adult classes being held at the high school were discussed. "Did you know that" hints were shared. Lois Allison, Hazel Moore and Jeanette Wallace had several pretty items for Show and Tell.

A delicious Thanksgiving potluck meal was enjoyed by everyone. Elsie Snelling had the lesson on frozen desserts. Mrs. Snelling and Naomi Dale served two desserts they had prepared.

After lunch Lois Allison led the club in games. The meeting was adjourned.

New members are invited to join our club regardless of race or creed.

Ellisville

Our club met Wednesday, Nov. 6 at the home of Patsy Smoot. Martha Paul, president, called the meeting to order. Devotional and prayer were given by Ruth Anderson. Patsy Smoot, secretary, took roll call which was answered by our favorite blessing. The minutes were read by the secretary and treasurer's report was given by Josephine Hughes.

Lesson on refrigerated desserts was given by Martha Paul. Mini lesson on marketing was given by Lena Tincher.

Club chairmen took reports and then everyone enjoyed a potluck lunch. There were 19 members, two guests, Helen Humphrey and Dorothy Sundys, and one child present.

Sally Markwell was a very delightful co-hostess. Our Christmas auction was a great success.

The meeting was adjourned to meet next month at the home of Ruth Anderson.

Moorefield

The Moorefield Homemakers met in the home of Mrs. J.S. Wilson with Mrs. Joe Smart as co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Charity Griffith conducting business as follows: The devotional was given by Mrs. W.J. Clark, "A Thankful Thanksgiving." Scripture was taken from Matthew 25: 40-45. The roll was called to which 14 members responded. Finance report was given. The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Wanda Mathes.

The bloodmobile was to be in Carlisle Nov. 18. The Moorefield club was asked to supply one person to help and to furnish the cheese and crackers.

The training school "You and Your Weight" was announced for Nov. 25.

Our club voted to give $25 from the club treasury to be sent to the Eastern State Hospital and also if anyone wanted to bring gifts, take them to Mrs. Lorraine Irvin.

This concluded the business session and the lesson on refrigerated desserts was given by Mrs. J.S. Wilson describing the variety of the different desserts. She stressed good use of our time is a precious asset.

A social hour followed with our hostesses serving samples of the desserts given in the lesson.

Our December meeting will be Dec. 3 with Mrs. Angus Jacobs. This will be our Christmas party.

East Union

The East Union Homemakers met Thursday night at the East Union Church.

Lorella Stevenson called the meeting to order and gave the devotion. We then shared a Thanksgiving supper of turkey with all the trimmings prepared by all.

After supper nine members and three guests answered roll call by naming something for which we are thankful. We took our monthly reports and Mrs. Wilson reminded us of upcoming events.

Our family life lesson was entitled Thanksgiving and a lesson on refrigerator desserts was given by Anna Stroud. The recipe for frozen lemon pie was prepared and served for the meal.

We will meet next month at the home of Sue Bell for our Christmas program and gift exchange.

Miranda

Mrs. Nancy Shaw entertained the Miranda Homemakers Club Nov. 13 at 6 p.m. with a chili supper at the Depot.

The meeting was presided over by our president, Betty Tabor. The devotional was given by Mrs. Thelma Crowe on a thankful heart. Thirteen members answered the roll call with their greatest blessing. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the treasurer's report was given. Margie Wilson announced the upcoming events.

Mrs. Sarah Liver gave the lesson on frozen deserts. Three prepared and enjoyed at the meal were frozen lemon pie, filled angel dessert and cheesecake. After the meeting an auction was held.

Our next meeting will be the annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Sally Watkins.
