One dedicated runner

In his first ever marathon competition, Carlisle's Gayle Kelly finished 1st in his age group in the featured 26.2-mile Marathon held Sunday, October 28th.

He not only completed the 26.2 mile course but did it in two hours, 53 minutes and 11 seconds — the best time in the last four years of the 12,500 runners who entered the prestigious competition.

In doing so, Gayle has qualified completely in any sanctioned and other five-pointers were placed at the back of the pack and were the starter's line.

from the U.S. Bureau of the Census, counts 1,832 people living within the corporate limits of Lexington.

City clerk Mary Tapp says the Census Bureau figures furnished her shows the figure to be 1,727. "The number shows no increase sharing reports as supplied by Blue Grass County and the other four counties over last year. This seems more in line with the 1980 census than the 1970 census."

The current enrollment at Nicholas County school is 346 in the elementary school and 346 in the high school, up about 10 students over last year. This seems to bear out the fact that we're holding our own or growing just a bit.

On the other hand, voter registration numbers are down. Only 24,500 voters are registered to cast 640,000 ballots for next month's election. The figures are eligible on the May Primary. Several names have moved from the precinct they lived in.

The population count posted on the city's night again shows 1,800 people. It is a matter of some debate here with no plans of preparing to build the number. It was up and out for the four sources together and divide by four and you come up with a happy number of 1,737-ppl.

Does anyone really care?

Eureka! You may have noticed we received a listing of hospital patients in need of organ donors in last week's paper. I had a complaint from a reader and good friend, Catherine Lee, who said remain anonymous, say, she and other donors on Hospital News and Nursing Home News to keep up with friends and relatives.

The numbers game

My story on Carlisle's population ranking in last week's paper failed to list one important fact. The number of residents, which according to data compiled by the Urban Studies Center at the University of Louisville from estimated figures.

Needs information on Hartley family
I am interested in receiving any information I can get from your readers regarding the following: Thomas Hartley moved to Nicholas County from Berkeley Co., Va. in 1796. He moved in 1800 in the living River, Wiley, Elizabeth, and in 1810. One of their children, Daniel, was born in Nicholas County. I would like to hear from anyone who can furnish any information on these people.

"Have you noticed our neighbor?" I asked the lady who lives next door.

"No. Why should I? I only see the black truck," she answered. "I'm sure your neighbor is just an old American's friend." "I'm not sure," I said. "He has moved up the road and is now living in a new house."

"What do you mean?" she asked. "I mean, I don't see him," I said. "I haven't seen him since he moved up the road. I don't know where he is." "I don't know either," she said. "I haven't seen him since he moved up the road. I don't know where he is." "I don't know either," she said. "I haven't seen him since he moved up the road. I don't know where he is."
