Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

The time has definitely come to serve soups and stews. They are convenient, nourishing, easy, inexpensive and delicious. What more could one want? Served with French bread, or any bread of your choice, and a salad or dessert, you have a complete meal. I like hard rolls and fresh fruit best. You take your choice.

Stews usually contain meat, and a variety of vegetables. Just remember one thing — keep the liquid around the meat at a happy bubble, never boil — or it will make the meat tough and stringy.

EASY BEEF STEW

1½ pounds boneless stew meat
½ cup flour
1½ teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
2 tablespoons cooking oil
2¼ cups water
2 medium onions, sliced
4 medium potatoes, cubed
5 medium carrots, sliced or cut into chunks
1½ cups frozen peas

Cut beef into 1½-inch cubes. Combine flour, salt and pepper and coat beef cubes with mixture. Brown meat in hot oil in Dutch oven. Sprinkle remaining seasoned flour over meat, stir well. Add water and cover. Simmer 2 or 3 hours or until meat is tender. Add onions, potatoes and carrots; simmer covered for 15 minutes. Add peas and simmer until vegetables are tender, stirring occasionally. Serves six. This is a thick stew.

BRUNSWICK STEW

1 whole chicken, 3 pounds
3 cups water
1½ teaspoon salt
1 cup diced potatoes
1¾ cups canned or frozen lima beans, drained
1¾ cups tomato sauce
½ cup sliced onion
1¼ cups corn, fresh or frozen
1 teaspoon sugar
Salt to taste
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/8 teaspoon oregano
1/8 teaspoon poultry seasoning
Dash of red pepper or hot pepper sauce

Simmer chicken in salted water until tender, about 2 or 3 hours. Drain off the broth and set aside. Separate the meat from skin and bones and cut into bite size pieces. Skim the fat from the broth. (I usually do this much one day and refrigerate the broth, and chicken, so the fat can be easily removed.) Boil the broth to concentrate it to about 2 cups.

Add potatoes to broth and simmer 10-15 minutes, add lima beans, tomato sauce and onion. Cook 20 minutes longer. Add chicken, corn and seasoning. Cook until all vegetables are tender. Adjust seasoning.

BARLEY VEGETABLE SOUP

5 cups water
1 16-oz. can whole tomatoes, undrained
3 beef bouillon cubes
½ cup regular barley
1 cup sliced carrots
1 cup chopped turnips
1 cup green beans, fresh or frozen, cut in 1-inch pieces
¾ cup chopped onion
½ cup green pepper, chopped
1 bay leaf
1½ tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon basil

Combine water, tomatoes and bouillon in 4-quart Dutch oven. Bring to boil, stirring occasionally, until cubes are dissolved. Cut tomatoes in pieces, stir in barley. Reduce heat, cover and simmer about 20 minutes. Stir in remaining ingredients. Cover and simmer about 40 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Makes about 2 quarts of soup.
