Eye-level auto stop lamp

Secretary of Transportation Elizabeth Hansford Dole stands beside a vehicle with the new eye-level rear stop lamp which must be installed on all cars manufactured after Sept. 1, 1985. The eye-level rear brake light is in addition to the regular two lower brake lights. Secretary Dole said: "We expect to cut the number of rear-end collisions significantly - and avoid some 40,000 injuries and save annually an estimated $434 million in property damages once all vehicles on the road are equipped with the third lamp." ## Seat belts required in license tests

All applicants who take drivers license tests, as well as all license examiners, are now required to use seat belts during the road portion of the tests.

Any applicant who refuses to wear a seat belt will not be tested. The only exception would be road tests conducted in older vehicles not equipped with seat belts from the manufacturers, according to State Police Commissioner Morgan T. Elkins.

Flemingsburg church site of UMW meeting

The Flemingsburg First United Methodist Church will be the site for the Maysville District United Methodist Women's annual meeting to be held Saturday, October 5. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the program begins at 10 a.m.

This year's theme is "Committed to Missions tomorrow." The all day event will include a remembrance service, pledge service, election and installation of officers and a session for officer training. The offering this year has been designated for the Red Bird Mission.

The host church will provide the noon meal at a cost of $4.

Guest speaker will be Sachi Kajiwara, a member of the women's division of the United Methodist Church. She is presently on the administrative staff of the Dayton, Ohio region and has taught at the cooperative Christian School of Missions in the Methodist Conference.

It would be helpful if each church would notify the host church of the number of persons who will attend to aid them in their preparation, Secretary of Communications Fay Cropper said.
