Bourbon citizens visit

Mayor Lee Beams seemed to enjoy talking to a group of Bourbon County citizens Saturday morning who came dressed in bicentennial attire. They brought along an authentic old buggy which is visible on the background. Pictured in the group are Tom Kincaid and Donnie Hodley, center, and Mayor Beams and Ted Wadsworth, right.

Kentucky Afield April is white bass time

When anglers daydream about a trout, they often come to mind. And rightly so because we have some great great fishing waters in the bluegrass. There's a big white bass fishery in the late 1970s during a time when the lake was drawn down extremely low for dam repairs.

For reasons not completely understood by biologists, Herrington Lake's white bass fishery declined in the late 1970s during a time when the lake was drawn down extremely low for dam repairs.

White bass spawning runs occur in the late 1970s and early 1980s. The white bass fishery is estimated at 14.33 pounds or eight percent of the total harvest. The white bass fishery is estimated at 14.33 pounds or eight percent of the total harvest. The white bass fishery is estimated at 14.33 pounds or eight percent of the total harvest.

Tobacco bed seeding 8% complete

Sunny, warm and dry weather allowed farmers to make rapid progress in early spring farm work. Nearly all areas done were suitable for fieldwork and progress in ahead of normal throughout the Commonwealth. Top soil moisture is excellent throughout Kentucky, but moisture is especially high in the eastern half of the state. Soil moisture was reported 74 percent short and 20 percent adequate.
