Al Baker ready to learn and wait his turn at Kentucky

Al Baker is the right move. The University of Kentucky's most talented freshman football player in several years seems to have been...

At first meeting Al Baker emerged as the kind of youngster every mom and dad would like to have around the house...

Baker looks like a young Earl Campbell and sounds like him too. He is not a talker, polite, honest...

Baker is surrounded by a gaggle of reporters, looking his biggest and best. He said, "I just want to try and learn as much as I can...

Baker is an intelligent youngster who seems to understand precisely what the coaches are doing. But all you want to do is be the best I can...

It is hard to believe that 6'11, 215-pound Baker became a star by carrying the football. He is iron, that is what he is...

"Can I block?" he said with a chuckle. "Well, I never did much of it in high school, but I think I can get a foot in the door..."

It is like when I visited Florida, all the other recruits would talk about where they were from...

Now comes the next test for this young athlete who like so many before him has climbed the ladder to stardom...
