Medicare opens enrollment

People who failed to sign up for the medical insurance part of Medicare when they were first eligible, or who dropped out, may enroll now through March 31 at any Social Security office. Coverage begins July 1.

Medicare hospital and medical insurance is available to almost everyone at age 65, to disabled people under 65 who have been entitled to Social Security disability benefits for at least 24 months, and to most people with permanent kidney failure. Nine out of 10 eligible people are enrolled.

Medicare's medical insurance supplements Medicare hospital insurance which is funded by part of the Social Security taxes paid by employers, employees and self-employed people. Medical insurance helps pay doctor's bills and other medical expenses not covered by hospital insurance. It is funded by individual monthly premiums paid by those who enroll and by Federal general revenues. The basic premium is $15.50 a month for 1986. In general, the basic monthly premium is increased by 10 percent for each year a person could have had medical insurance but did not.

People 65 and over who are not eligible for Social Security or railroad retirement benefits can get Medicare hospital insurance by enrolling and paying a monthly premium. The monthly premium for these people is $214 for 1986. People who buy hospital insurance must also sign up for medical insurance part of Medicare and pay the monthly premium.

It should be noted that people do not have to retire to get Medicare coverage. On approaching 65, people who want the coverage but wish to continue working may sign up at any Social Security office and have their coverage begin with the month they reach 65.

For more information on enrolling in Medicare's medical insurance, give us a call. The number is 606-564-4096.

Mrs. Robert Sturgeon is the niece of Mrs. Rubel Williams of Carlisle.

ning the application to the state 4-H office is February 21.

Crum said jobs are available for camp managers, medical technicians, swimming instructors, and instructors for recreations and crafts. Starting and closing dates for the camps vary with some starting as early as May 26 and some lasting until August 8. Each job will be for a period of nine to 10 weeks, Crum said.

Those who apply for a camp manager's position must be at least 18 and a high school graduate, Crum said. Camping, counseling or administrative/personnel experience is desired. Communications skills and the ability to work with young people are necessary.

Those applying for emergency medical technician positions must have state certification, Crum said, and swimming instructors must be certified in life saving or hold a state Water Safety Instructor certificate from the Red Cross.

Crum said about 10,000 young people, aged 9 to about 13, will attend 4-H camps this year. Paid staff and instructors will not have cabin counselor duties, Crum said. Those duties are assumed by adult volunteers and teen counselors who stay in the cabins with the young people at night. Paid staff have their own quarters.

Jones was lodged in the Bourbon County Jail.

Trooper Larry Carey has charged a 17-year-old Carlisle youth with two counts of criminal possession of a forged instrument. The juvenile was arrested at 1:45 p.m. Feb. 1, 1986 in the city limits of Carlisle.

The youth was lodged in juvenile detention in Robertson County.

He indicated the loss of interest would be more than compensated for by a higher proportion of loans to small and agri-businesses within the state and by the greater resulting "multiplier effect" within the state. It is projected that these funds could be invested locally, providing a return to the state's citizens and businesses through increased income and–at the same time–provide a return to the state and local governments through increased tax revenues.

Other states' with successful link-deposit programs say their statistics seem to prove that the addition of reduced rate state funds into the banking community to aid or save small and agri-businesses should increase the total amount of lending to those businesses as these specific loans could be coupled with other available loans.

A study by the Ford Foundation found that for every dollar given up in investment revenue, three to four dollars are returned to the state in the form of personal income tax, business tax, sales tax and lower costs associated with unemployment.
