Two teens suffer minor injuries in one-car wreck

A car carrying four Nicholas County students left the road and hit the culvert on rain-slick Highway 36 near Jockey International Thursday, June 5 about 7:30 p.m.

Two were treated at the local hospital for minor injuries. Melissa Ritchie, 16, was the driver of the car, a 1982 Chrysler LeBaron. Its occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Ritchie of Carlisle, also suffered two black eyes.

Amanda Hunt, also 16, sustained a broken ankle. Two others, Heather Hall and Amy Hill, both 14, were not injured.

Troopers Russ Sparks and Tim Thomas investigated the accident, which occurred after a rain storm. According to reports, water was sprayed on Chrysler's windshield by a passing motorist, obstructing Ritchie's vision. The car then hit a large puddle of water in the road causing her to lose control of the vehicle which slammed into the culvert.

Nicholas unemployed shows drop

Continued improvement of both economic and seasonal factors helped push unemployment down for the second month in a row in most Kentucky counties in April, according to figures released by the Cabinet for Human Resources.

Unemployment rates dropped in 113 counties between March and April, while they rose in seven counties. Nicholas County rates were 7.1, down from 9.9 in March.

The number of Kentuckians working increased by 22,300 between March and April. State labor market analyst Ed Blackwell said, "Increased activity in agriculture, construction and recreation has led to more jobs."

The county's unemployment figures reflected the statewide drop from a revised 11.3 percent in March to a preliminary 10.6 percent in April. Nationally unemployment declined from 7.5 percent in March to 7.0 percent in April. The comparable state and national rates are not seasonally adjusted.

Trimble County's 3.7 percent rate was the lowest in the state, followed by Oldham's 4.4 percent, Woodford's 4.5 percent, Fayette's 4.6 percent and Carroll's 4.9 percent.
