

The Carlisle Mercury

119th year, No. 11

Carlisle, Kentucky 40311-0272 Thursday, March 13, 1986

35 cents per copy

MAR
13
1986

Industrial Development Authority plans unfold

Council okays Blackberry Festival dates; Dorseyville bridge a late spring reality

TERRY PRATHER
...succeeds Kelly Dellinger

4-H agent faces busy days ahead

Terry Prather admitted that the first couple of weeks he was on the job as Nicholas County Extension Agent for 4-H were rather quiet. But the pace has quickened considerably and now there's hardly enough hours in the day to accomplish all he needs to do between now and the end of school.

Employed January 13 by the GK Cooperative Extension Service and here since February 1, Prather has 4-H members lined up for the clothing project, classroom club organization, met with members of the local adult council headed by Gerald Watkins, and with members of Fiscal Court at its March meeting.

The county has been without a 4-H agent since Kelly Dellinger resigned last October and much faced the 24-year-old Paducah County native in his first extension service experience.

Dates of comic events being planned are a demonstration contest set for Monday, March 24 at the elementary school cafeteria, following school.

The annual Talent Show is an event of April 11 and 12, followed closely by the Fashion Review April 16.

MEANWHILE, the clothing project is being whipped into shape with Monday and Tuesday classes from 4-6 p.m. at the school, under the tutelage of Frances Linnell.

First-year sewers who would like to take part in the clothing project are invited to attend an all-day session.

* See 4-H agent, page 11

Col C membership dinner set Friday

Joe Gibson of Richmond will speak on industrial development at the annual membership dinner of the Carlisle/Nicholas County Chapter of Commerce Friday, March 14 at the library.

Tickets for the dinner are $8.50. Reservations were due by Wednesday for the catered dinner.

Heaters credited to Hilander's rock bill

The registers, similar to those used in the courthouse, were salvaged from the old city school building which Hilander is in the process of tearing down. He placed a value of $100 on each register.

Fiscal Court, at its March 3 meeting, agreed to apply the $300 credit towards Hilander's debt on condition that the heaters are in operation during the year.

AT THE REQUEST of magistrate active Adkins, a copy of County Attorney Joseph Conley's Feb. 12 letter to Johnson-Mathers Health Care Inc. was ordered included in a

Tobacco meeting

A county wide tobacco meeting under the sponsorship of the Nicholas County Extension Office will be held Wednesday, March 13, 7-9:30 p.m. at the Nicholas County Elementary School cafeteria.

Teamwork

State Representative Adrian Arnold, D-Mt. Sterling, is a farmer by profession and a lawmaker by choice. "I enjoy farming and serving my constituents in Frankfort," Arnold said. "I am actually one of the few full-time farmers left in the General Assembly."

Arnold represents 36,000 people in Nicholas, Bath, and Monticoney counties. He has served his district for 15 years which gives him security among his cohorts.

"I believe seniority is a valuable tool in the General Assembly," Arnold said. "I think my experience

Adrian Arnold:

One of few fulltime farmers in Frankfort

ADRIAN ARNOLD
...represents Nicholas County

High winds fan fires

High winds and warm temperatures helped fuel two grass fires on Nicholas County Sunday. Firefighters were called to the farm of Harold Letton on Pleasant Springs Road about 8:45 a.m. Fire of unknown origin burned off approximately five acres of land before being brought under control. Also on Sunday, about 7:15 p.m., firemen responded to an alarm at the Leonard Wilson farm on Dixie Chapel

Meeting the needs

Nicholas County native Calvin Denton, left, and his wife Marge are owners of Carlisle's newest enterprise, C&M Meat Market, 248 E. Main Street. Calvin is shown with butcher Duke Whitaker of Kenton town. (See Home Affairs, page 7)

Teamwork

State Representative Adrian Arnold, D-Mt. Sterling, is a farmer by profession and a lawmaker by choice. "I enjoy farming and serving my constituents in Frankfort," Arnold said. "I am actually one of the few full-time farmers left in the General Assembly."

Arnold represents 36,000 people in Nicholas, Bath, and Monticoney counties. He has served his district for 15 years which gives him security among his cohorts.

"I believe seniority is a valuable tool in the General Assembly," Arnold said. "I think my experience

Adrian Arnold:

One of few fulltime farmers in Frankfort

High winds fan fires

High winds and warm temperatures helped fuel two grass fires on Nicholas County Sunday. Firefighters were called to the farm of Harold Letton on Pleasant Springs Road about 8:45 a.m. Fire of unknown origin burned off approximately five acres of land before being brought under control. Also on Sunday, about 7:15 p.m., firemen responded to an alarm at the Leonard Wilson farm on Dixie Chapel

Meeting the needs

Nicholas County native Calvin Denton, left, and his wife Marge are owners of Carlisle's newest enterprise, C&M Meat Market, 248 E. Main Street. Calvin is shown with butcher Duke Whitaker of Kenton town. (See Home Affairs, page 7)

CALVIN DENTON
...owns C&M Meat Market

Teamwork

State Representative Adrian Arnold, D-Mt. Sterling, is a farmer by profession and a lawmaker by choice. "I enjoy farming and serving my constituents in Frankfort," Arnold said. "I am actually one of the few full-time farmers left in the General Assembly."

Arnold represents 36,000 people in Nicholas, Bath, and Monticoney counties. He has served his district for 15 years which gives him security among his cohorts.

"I believe seniority is a valuable tool in the General Assembly," Arnold said. "I think my experience

Adrian Arnold:

One of few fulltime farmers in Frankfort

High winds fan fires

High winds and warm temperatures helped fuel two grass fires on Nicholas County Sunday. Firefighters were called to the farm of Harold Letton on Pleasant Springs Road about 8:45 a.m. Fire of unknown origin burned off approximately five acres of land before being brought under control. Also on Sunday, about 7:15 p.m., firemen responded to an alarm at the Leonard Wilson farm on Dixie Chapel

Meeting the needs

Nicholas County native Calvin Denton, left, and his wife Marge are owners of Carlisle's newest enterprise, C&M Meat Market, 248 E. Main Street. Calvin is shown with butcher Duke Whitaker of Kenton town. (See Home Affairs, page 7)

Teamwork

State Representative Adrian Arnold, D-Mt. Sterling, is a farmer by profession and a lawmaker by choice. "I enjoy farming and serving my constituents in Frankfort," Arnold said. "I am actually one of the few full-time farmers left in the General Assembly."

Arnold represents 36,000 people in Nicholas, Bath, and Monticoney counties. He has served his district for 15 years which gives him security among his cohorts.

"I believe seniority is a valuable tool in the General Assembly," Arnold said. "I think my experience

Adrian Arnold:

One of few fulltime farmers in Frankfort

TERRY PRATHER
...succeeds Kelly Dellinger

4-H agent faces busy days ahead

Terry Prather admitted that the first couple of weeks he was on the job as Nicholas County Extension Agent for 4-H were rather quiet. But the pace has quickened considerably and now there's hardly enough hours in the day to accomplish all he needs to do between now and the end of school.

Employed January 13 by the GK Cooperative Extension Service and here since February 1, Prather has 4-H members lined up for the clothing project, classroom club organization, met with members of the local adult council headed by Gerald Watkins, and with members of Fiscal Court at its March meeting.

The county has been without a 4-H agent since Kelly Dellinger resigned last October and much faced the 24-year-old Paducah County native in his first extension service experience.

Dates of comic events being planned are a demonstration contest set for Monday, March 24 at the elementary school cafeteria, following school.

The annual Talent Show is an event of April 11 and 12, followed closely by the Fashion Review April 16.

MEANWHILE, the clothing project is being whipped into shape with Monday and Tuesday classes from 4-6 p.m. at the school, under the tutelage of Frances Linnell.

First-year sewers who would like to take part in the clothing project are invited to attend an all-day session.

* See 4-H agent, page 11

Col C membership dinner set Friday

Joe Gibson of Richmond will speak on industrial development at the annual membership dinner of the Carlisle/Nicholas County Chapter of Commerce Friday, March 14 at the library.

Tickets for the dinner are $8.50. Reservations were due by Wednesday for the catered dinner.

Heaters credited to Hilander's rock bill

The registers, similar to those used in the courthouse, were salvaged from the old city school building which Hilander is in the process of tearing down. He placed a value of $100 on each register.

Fiscal Court, at its March 3 meeting, agreed to apply the $300 credit towards Hilander's debt on condition that the heaters are in operation during the year.

AT THE REQUEST of magistrate active Adkins, a copy of County Attorney Joseph Conley's Feb. 12 letter to Johnson-Mathers Health Care Inc. was ordered included in a

Tobacco meeting

A county wide tobacco meeting under the sponsorship of the Nicholas County Extension Office will be held Wednesday, March 13, 7-9:30 p.m. at the Nicholas County Elementary School cafeteria.

Teamwork

State Representative Adrian Arnold, D-Mt. Sterling, is a farmer by profession and a lawmaker by choice. "I enjoy farming and serving my constituents in Frankfort," Arnold said. "I am actually one of the few full-time farmers left in the General Assembly."

Arnold represents 36,000 people in Nicholas, Bath, and Monticoney counties. He has served his district for 15 years which gives him security among his cohorts.

"I believe seniority is a valuable tool in the General Assembly," Arnold said. "I think my experience

Adrian Arnold:

One of few fulltime farmers in Frankfort

Jet propelled Jacket
Senior Gary Denton leaps high in the air to lay in two points in the Jackson 48-47 loss to MAM in the opening round of the 27th District tournament at Bourbon County last Tuesday night. Looking on is Gannon Bryant (55). Denton led NCHS with 18 points. (See Sports, page 2)

Clyde Snapp wins first contest - pg. 9

Nicholas County native Calvin Denton, left, and his wife Marge are owners of Carlisle's newest enterprise, C&M Meat Market, 248 E. Main Street. Calvin is shown with butcher Duke Whitaker of Kenton town. (See Home Affairs, page 7)

Nicholas County native Calvin Denton, left, and his wife Marge are owners of Carlisle's newest enterprise, C&M Meat Market, 248 E. Main Street. Calvin is shown with butcher Duke Whitaker of Kenton town. (See Home Affairs, page 7)