Council

discussed on the properties of Harper's Garage belonging to The First National Bank, Licha Farah, Bill Campbell in Derrysville and the old Carlisle City School belonging to Bill Hilander.

Mrs. Nancy Shaw asked that the dog situation on Walnut Street be controlled. She said it was impossible to set trash out for pickup without dogs tearing into it.

Council voted to hire Terry Jolly to paint the upstairs hallway in the city building. He will also carpet the steps and hallway, and fix windows for $2,175. Councilman Cartmell Lester voted against the motion.

OTHER MATTERS brought before council were:

— Laura McKay complained about water standing on sidewalk in front of her house on West Main.

— Jolly has received $4,445 from state Department of Libraries and Archives for codifying city ordinances.

— Several merchants asked Councilman Jeff Tyrer to bring before council the possibility of angle-parking on Locust Street from the corners of Main to Chestnut.

— Volunteer firemen requested that they be allowed to use the city's tax exempt number when purchasing scuba diving equipment to be used in rescuing drowning victims. Council decided they can order equipment in city's name, and reimburse city for cost.

— Betty Barton suggested that new breaker boxes be installed in the upstairs of the city building, as the wiring is inadequate.

— Mayor Bentz reported that "things have been put on hold in Frankfort" concerning the bridge discharge permit for Hockey International's Carlisle knitting plant.

29 and 3, 17 and one I'd have said, 'go get a medical exam,'" Sutton said. "But these players understand their roles, there's a chemistry.

We have heard those plaudits before of course, but from the guy who got 'em having fun again, is a glimpse at the inner workings. One thing about today's game that epitomizes this team is that we played solid defense, we played hard all the time, maintained a high intensity level and we protected the basketball, didn't make a lot of turnovers. Those things go a long way toward winning ball games.

And winning converts too.

Call it what you like, I prefer Eddie Ball, but whatever you call it, call it having fun again.

Eye Openers

By
Dr. Robert F. Pretzsch, Optometrist

Contact Lens Update

Q. Can the astigmatic patient be fitted successfully with soft contact lenses?

A. Soft contact lenses are now available that have been especially designed to fit over the irregular curvature of the astigmatic eye.

While the inside curve of most contact lenses is spherical, soft contact lenses for the astigmatic patient have been designed so that the lens is flatter in one direction than in the other, to complement the uneven curvature of the astigmatic eye. The lens is also weighted or truncated at the bottom, to maintain alignment with the eye. Whether an individual can wear them must be determined by patient and optometrist.

Q. Why are these soft contact lenses more expensive than regular ones?

A. Soft contact lenses for the astigmatic patient come in a vast number of sizes, shapes and curvatures, which makes them more expensive. It takes more skill and time to fit them properly if the patient is to wear them successfully.

D-Day relived this Saturday

The landing of the Allied forces on the row of beaches along the northern coast of Normandy was the solution to the worldwide threat of Nazi rule. On June 6, 1944, the Allies embarked on what Supreme Allied Commander Dwight Eisenhower called "a great crusade," and D-Day became history.

"D-Day: The Liberation of France," relives these events in a documentary airing Saturday, March 15 at 5 p.m. on KET.

Gardening show on KET Sunday

With spring just around the corner, you can get a refresher course in home gardening when "The Best of Kentucky Gardening" airs on Sunday, March 16 at 5 p.m. on KET.

Host Meg Southerland, a former county extension agent with a background in horticulture, will look back at some of the highlights of last season's "Kentucky Gardening" series.
