

Sutton's signing Sutton timed to eclipse 'reminder' to NCAA?

Timing and things Strategic timing, Sean Sutton's announcement last week that he will sign with the University of Kentucky was impressive. The Henry Clay High guard—last year of UK Coach Eddie Sutton—came just in time to grab some weekend media attention, for, by background of fact, he chose the week before the NCAA's early signing period.

Young Sutton's decision—if the intended results—might well insulate some of the bump that may come from a story in the November 10 edition of the Sporting News.

In the article, headlined "The stall on 'U' of Kentucky," writer Jeffrey Mauer wonders if NCAA investigators are allowing themselves to be intimidated by UK regarding the charges in last year's series by the players mentioned in the article. Mauer has been interviewed by NCAA investigators.

To buttress his claim, the writer offers quotes from ex-Kentucky basketball player Sam Bowie. The 71 center star of Portland Trail Blazers, who said in last year's Herald-Leader story that he was offered $500,000 by professional basketball players, who said in last year's Herald-Leader story that he was offered $500,000 by professional basketball players, who said in last year's Herald-Leader story that he was offered $500,000 by professional basketball players...

Chenault scores 18 as Jackets fall 21-0

The Nicholas County Bluejackets ended their worst-ever season in recent years in a 21-0 setback in Friday night.

The loss was the 11th of the season season which saw the Jackets score only 34 points, just over three per game. The opposition averaged 20 points, a respectable 20 average.

They actually showed they had a one of the state's premier running backs, taking all three carries for 100 yards in the first quarter and from three yards out in the second period.

After a scoreless first quarter, Chenault scored in from the one.

In Estill tournament

The Nicholas County Elementary School seventh and eighth grade girls basketball team lost to host Estill County Middle School in tournament action last week. Seventh grade team members include: front row, Susan Cox, Joy Anderson, Mary Ann Loveworn, Gabriel Frymon, Tony Earlywine, Kirstin Barton, Nikki Smith, Back, Tony Deaton, Phillip Collins, Dalee Owen and Greg Fryman—graduated. Steve then will have to make his shots count since there might not be a fourth team in the first round.

From the field, the 11th graders scored 18 points in the first half and 23 in the second half. The team was held to 18 points in the first half and 23 in the second half. The team was held to 18 points in the first half and 23 in the second half.

7-8th grade Bluejackets finish 2-1

The seventh and eighth grade Bluejackets ended the season on a winning note, defeating the Fleming County Cougars eight games, 14-4.

The young Jackets, trailing 4-0 at halftime, were the count in the third quarter when Daniel Brown recovered a fumble in the end zone. The touchdown culminated a 22 play march down the field engineered by quarterback Jason Farah.

The winning points came on a 30-yard halfback pass from Brown to George Joseph in the fourth quarter.

The defense, led by tackle Scott Irvin, thwarted a Cougar drive in the closing minute and seconds.

The Jackets compiled a 2-1 record during the season, with wins over Mason County and Fleming and a loss to Harrison County. Coach Greg Leathers said games are hard to schedule since many schools have teams competing in league competition at the seventh and eighth grade level.

The freshman team fortunes fell on hard times due to lack of grade promotion. They failed to win in seven outings.
