'86 football season may be crossroads year for football?

Annual programs at the Universities of Kentucky and Louisville have come to a crossroads this season. It seems to me...

For reasons important to coaches Jerry Claiborne at UK and Howard Schoenberger at U.L., the coming season shapes up as a pivotal one on the field, but off it, too, however subtle, the battle is being fought...

That's why I'm picking the Wildcats '87, maybe '88. What a UK has slammed last week, "Traitor! Are you crazy or what?"

Well, maybe I said, point out that I am the mortal who picked UK '82 last season and a trip to the beach. The Wildcats limped home with a 3-6 record and their hides thrashed. UK was 10-5 down the stretch.

If UK is to improve on '84, here are some key areas that must be addressed:

1. Offense: UK was 10-5 down the stretch. Schoenberger took to the offense over that summer when he made a two-week tour of the state, visiting schools and young athletes who were here to see what the future was like at the time.

2. Defense: UK was 10-5 down the stretch. Claiborne took to the defense over that summer when he made a two-week tour of the state, visiting schools and young athletes who were here to see what the future was like at the time.

3. Coaching: UK was 10-5 down the stretch. Both coaches need to be evaluated and their strategies reassessed.

Cherleaders put pep in the rally

Bluejacket cheerleaders led the student body of a pep rally prior to Madison NHS football season opener last week. The Jokers, 120 leaders, host Mason County Friday. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Strike up the band

The Nicholas County High School Band, under the direction of Shawn Parrish, provided music for Friday's pep rally. Parrish is in his fourth year as band director here.

Mason comes calling Friday

Nicholas County, starting from a 12-0 loss to Buchanan Madison in the season opener here Friday, will try to get its passing attack in gear tomorrow night when Mason County comes calling. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Both offensive and defensive line play was encouraging. Coach Bob Barr is working with a backfield featuring junior Day on the line starter from last year's team.

New bass size increased to 15" in three lakes
