EASTERN KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY A SCHOOL OF OPPORTUNITY

EKU is a School of Opportunity, a student oriented university where teaching is our principal responsibility.

If you are a Kentucky high school graduate, you will be admitted without conditions for the 1987 Fall Semester to pursue baccalaureate programs if you have completed the Pre-College Curriculum on record at certain levels on the ACT or if you are in the upper half of your graduating class.

In addition, EKU offers a number of community college (associate degree) programs. The completion of the Pre-College Curriculum is not a requirement for admission to these programs.

As EKU we strongly encourage high school students to complete our Pre-College Curriculum. But if you did not complete it, we are still prepared to admit you to EKU where teaching students is our first priority.
