Eye Openers

CATARACTS & GLARE
For those with developing cataracts, or for those adjusting to an implant after cataract surgery, sunlight and glare from various types of lighting present special seeing problems. With standard prescription sunglasses, vision may be hazy; the eyes may feel uncomfortable.
GLARE CONTROL LENSES that filter out blue light (as well as ultraviolet light) often provide comfortable vision for people who are extra sensitive to sunlight and glare. These may also contain photochromic properties, so that their filtering ability changes on bright days, cloudy days and indoors. Recent improvements in the lenses have made them available in a wider selection of attractive shades. They may be ordered plain or ground to a prescription.
Before using these glare control lenses when driving, be sure to have your color vision checked. In some cases, the strong filters in the lenses could affect the way you see traffic lights.

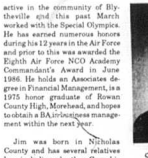
Kerns nominated for NCO of 1986



Sgt. James Kerns, Jr.

TSgt. James L. Kerns, Jr. has been chosen by the Strategic Air Command as the nominee for the Air Force Association Outstanding Accounting and Finance NCO of 1986. The selection was made by Headquarters SAC and announced by Captain E. F. Ramos, Chief, Accounting and Finance Branch, Blytheville AFB, Arkansas. Sgt. Kerns, Quality Assurance NCO with the Accounting and Finance Office, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Kerns, Sr., Carlisle.

According to Captain Ramos, when Sgt. Kerns arrived at Blytheville in January, 1986 as Chief of Military Pay, the section was in need of "organization and leadership." Using previous experience, "he was able to give direction to personnel assigned to him," Captain Ramos said. This included teaching effective military pay procedures to all personnel to insure against problems caused by someone not knowing how to do the job.

In August 1986, Sgt. Kerns was transferred to Quality Assurance as the NCOIC. His duties include making sure that more than $8 million in appropriated funds are collected, disbursed, and accountable. When there are problems, he makes recommendations to correct the situation. "As his recommendations were implemented and progress made," said Captain Ramos, "the morale of the branch went up." In order to make business improvements through extensive use of available computers, Sgt. Kerns designed a one-hour training session for all 56 members of the Controllers Division.

Although Sgt. Kerns is involved in many base activities, he is also active in the community of Blytheville and this past March worked with the Special Olympics. He has earned numerous honors during his 12 years in the Air Force and prior to this was awarded the Eighth Air Force NCO Academy Commandant's Award in June 1986. He holds an Associates degree in Financial Management, is a 1975 honor graduate of Rowan County High, Morehead, and hopes to obtain a BA in business management within the next year.

Jim was born in Nicholas County and has several relatives here including a brother, Gary, his grandmother, Mrs. Anna Kerns, and Mrs. Betty Bussell, aunt.

The Caring Corner

When it's as hot and dry as it's been the last several days, I am reminded of a "Peanuts" comic strip that appeared several years ago.
One summer day Snoopy stared into his water dish and thought, "Empty! And I'm dying of thirst!"
Snoopy picked up the dish in his mouth and sat down with it in front of an outdoor water faucet. Several minutes went by and nothing happened. Nobody came by to turn the faucet on.
Then, to Snoopy's surprise, it began to rain! The rain fell, gaining in strength until Snoopy's water dish was full, and then it stopped. Snoopy set the dish down and drank his fill.
Later, on top of his doghouse, Snoopy considered what had happened: "That's one I'm going to have to think about for a while!"
The Bible says in Revelations 22:17 - "... let the one who is thirsty come, let the one who desires take the water of life without price."
