Mrs. Robert Nord Froehlich

Cooper - Froehlich are wed

Donna Faye Cooper, daughter of Calvin and Betty Cooper, Paris, and Robert Nord Froehlich, son of Nord Froehlich, Lexington, and the late Mrs. Grace Froehlich, were united in marriage November 21, 1987 at the First Baptist Church, with Dr. Howard Beauman officiating.

The double ring ceremony was preformed before an alter decorated with brass candelabras, green ferns and a floral arrangement of white mums and daisies.

Mrs. Pat Massie was organist and played selections which included Trumpet Voluntary, Arioso, Nadia's Theme, Prayer and the Wedding March. She was accompanied by vocalists Mike and Vicki Mills, who sang, Nobody Loves Me Like You Do and To Me, One Hand, One Heart was also sung by Mike Mills.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the alter by her father, the bride wore a designer gown of white satin and imported French lace. The high wedding band collar featured tiny lapels at the throat encrusted with sequins and pearls. The cathedral train flowed from the waist in a train of white satin and imported Venice lace. The waist length veil was encrusted with pearls and sequins. Her silk bouquet was white roses, stephanotis, gardenias and baby's breath.

Jane Hickerson, Lexington, friend of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a mauve gown of satin which featured short puff sleeves and a full skirt. She carried a lighted brass candle with glass globe, which was surrounded with mauve silk roses and baby's breath.

Debra Holbrook, Paris, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. She wore a mauve gown identical to the matron of honor's. She also carried a candle of mauve silk roses and baby's breath.

Melissa Sparks, Paris, friend of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor length gown of white satin and carried a white basket of mauve roses and baby's breath.

The groom wore a pearl gray tuxedo with gray vest and tie. He wore a white silk rose in his lapel.

John Froehlich, Atlanta, Georgia, served his brother as best man. Groomsman was Tommy Weber, Lexington, friend of the groom. They wore pearl gray tuxedos with mauve cummerbunds and bow ties. They wore a silk rose in their lapels.

The bride's mother wore a mauve tea length dress with a silk corsage of gardenias.

The guest book was attended by Cherie and Nancy Froehlich, sister of the groom. Kim and Beth Bailey, cousins of the bride, passed our wedding programs.

The reception was held at the Sunflower Restaurant. The table was covered with a mauve table cloth and accented with white lace overlays. It featured a three tiered wedding cake of white decorated with light pink roses.

Brenda McIlvain, Sharon Bailey, and Evelyn Hammonds, auntie of the bride, presided at the reception.

After a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tennessee, the couple will reside in Georgetown.

Social Security Update

Q. I was recently married. Is it necessary to have my name changed and apply for a new Social Security card?

A. Yes, if you intend to use your married name at work and when you file your tax return. You should report the change as soon as possible to any Social Security office and apply for a new Social Security card. A new card will be issued with the new name but with the same Social Security number. You will need evidence showing both your old and new names, your marriage license for example.

Q. My mother gets a small Social Security check and thinks she might be able to get SSI payments, too. She knows she has to give Social Security proof of her age to apply, but she can't find her birth certificate. What should she do?

A. Since your mother is getting Social Security checks, Social Security already has a record of her age. Therefore, she doesn't need to provide proof again.

Wills to head international school trip

Kay Wills, Carlisle, a teacher at Nicholas County High School has been selected to lead an exciting travel adventure abroad.

The trip has been organized by the American Institute For Foreign Study (AIFS) of Greenwich, Connecticut, and is open to students and adults.

Over 300,000 students, teachers, and other adults have participated in international educational travel programs sponsored by AIFS since it was founded in 1964.

Group members of the "Experience Europe" tour spend ten vacation days crossing West-ern Europe.

An AIFS guide-lecturer accompanies the group throughout, leading tours to the major museums and monuments and providing knowledgeable commentary on the life and culture of each locale visited.

Highlights include seeing the Changing of the Guard at London's Buckingham Palace, admiring the gargoyles on Paris' Notre Dame Cathedral, climbing Pisa's Leaning Tower, absorbing Florence's countless Renaissance treasures and tossing a coin into Rome's Trevi Fountain.

This program is especially attractive because it combines extensive sightseeing in these "must see" cities and more leisurely views of the richly varied European coasts and countryside from the channel ferry and deluxe motor coach.

The AIFS travel program has been granted listing by the Council on Standards for International Education Travel, a nonprofit organization committed to establishing standards for international educational travel and monitoring compliance with those standards on behalf of schools, communities and educational groups in the United States.

There are still places available on this program. For more information parents and students, as well as interested adults, may contact: Kay Wills, 606-289-5565.

Headquarters

The Headquarters Homemakers met December 1st at Duncan Tavern in Paris. Diana Wills, president, called our meeting to order. 19 members and 5 guest answered the roll call naming their favorite Christmas ornament.

The minutes were read and approved, Hazel Moore gave the Treasures report.

Betsy Cleaver, Cultured Arts Chairman had our Christmas program titled, "What is Christmas?" As we sang Christmas Carols each person placed their gifts under the Christmas Tree.

A delicious meal was enjoyed by all. After our exchange of Christmas gifts and time of fellowship our meeting was adjourned.

Our next meeting will be January 5th at Carolyn Allen's with Naomi Dale as Co-Hostess.

Ellisville

The December meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ruth Anderson. The meeting was called to order by the president Juanita Hunt. The roll was answered by your favorite Christmas Ornament.

The minutes of the last meeting was read by Katherine Wells.

There were 16 members present with two visitors.

The lesson was on 'The Greatest Christmas Gift.'

The scripture was given by Mrs. Thelma Stanifird.

The club gave a donation to the Nicholas County Fire Department, and also as a club project to help a club member at Christmas.

Lunch was served at noon. Followed by the exchange of gifts, then the meeting adjourned.

Gates places third in contest

Betty Gates, formerly of Carlisle, placed third in a exterior design contest sponsored by the Technical Trades Institute, Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Ms. Gates is currently working toward an Associate of Occupational Studies Degree in Interior Design.

The Institute-wide contest sought to develop a new entry way, color scheme, and business sign for the larger classroom building acquired by the school.

Ms. Gates' business sign design was judged as the best of all the entrants, thus winning her third place in the contest.

First and second place went to the best designs for entry way and color scheme respectively.
