Lady Jackets . . . . . .

game read that Nicholas was 10 for 29 at the foul line.

One redeeming quality was the extensive rebounding effort that the Jackets received , namely Chrisa Auxier and Bussell, made an effort to achieve as that the Powell offense could be kept somewhat in check.

With Auxier's basket at the buzzer the girls retired to the locker room trailing, 27-18.

At this time Bussell, Warner, Moore, and Auxier were in jeopardy with two fouls.

The Jackets burst out of the third quarter as Moore faked to the right and scored two followed by a steal to the credit of Warner for the fast break and and easy lay up to the right.

Another two by Warner with 4:37 left in the quarter cut the Pirates' lead to three and the Powell defense, feeling thwarted, called for a full court press.

The Pirates' McDowell was cut off inside continually on the offense with a press by Bussell and Hamilton.

This action not only kept Powell's leading scorer at bay, but forced Sherrie Skidmore and Jenell Keith to take the ball for those risky, near the perimeter, field goals.

Even though Nicholas' defense was rough, the offense could not move inside the Powell defense.

Moore made the effort to hit the field goals but Powell held the lead.

Going into the fourth quarter the score read, 34-24.

"At this point we decided to switch sides and hit Bussell on the top of the key.

"This way we could still be forcing penetration of a kind," said Kenney.

Penny McConnell went in for Auxier when she fouled out on what Kenney thought as a "no body contact foul."

Jackets kept a disciplined game as Warner continued crashing the boards and McConnell hustling on the press.

Hamilton scored the last two and the final score read, 39-32.

Kenney said of the game, "I think the girls had a much better effort than they have had before in the season.

"Even when we were down we kept our composure and discipline on defense and on offense.

"In the third quarter when Moore was forced to take those shots she took good and balanced shots.

"And even though she got a little discouraged when she was not hitting like usual she kept that vitally important composure.

"What killed us was foul shots. We were 10 for 29 at the line.

"But overall I thought it was a much better effort especially since we called for a new defense called the Triangle and Chase Defense. They even did a real good job with that."

Bussell led the Lady Jackets with 10 points and 14 rebounds.

The Jackets will face Frankfort, December, 10, in a road game, and will entertain Richmond Madison, December 14.
