Beautiful: Tips from the Hart

This is concerning your color. Color is important. I would like to say I found your column extremely interesting and very helpful...

My color facts come from a color survey from a stage consultant who spent years studying the effect of color on the human psyche. Friends?

I agree that color is important but you should state - the right color for the right person, navy no pink complexioned people and tanned on peach complexioned persons.

Change

If you find it takes a long time to get used to your new eyeglasses, perhaps you've noticed how long it takes to have your eyes re-examined...

Sometimes, a change in the type of lens makes the adjustment harder. For example, the first pair of reading glasses, or the first pair of bifocals, may take a greater period of adjustment...
