Payne - Cook wed May 2

Miss Barbara Ann Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Payne, and Randy Lee Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rankin Cook, were united in marriage May 2 at the Assembly of God, Carlisle with Rev. Bruce Smith officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white tulle gown, accented with chinchilly lace. The chapel length train was fastened by loops of chinchilly lace topped with a white satin bow. The lace stand-up collar was illustrated with accented pearls, the off-the-shoulder puff sleeves were trimmed in chinchilly lace. She wore a tiara accented with pearls in a floral design and the fingertip veil was of Venice lace edged in chinchilly lace. She carried a bouquet of red roses and lily with a touch of baby's breath.

Kingsolver honored by KHA at May meeting

Carlisle physician Dr. W.R. Kingsolver, a diplomate in the American Board of Family Practitioners, has been named the recipient of the Community Service Award presented by the Nicholas County Historical Association at its annual meeting in Louisville, May 2.

It was his 35th annual convention for the KHA.

Kingsolver has also served as a trustee on the Nicholas County Hospital Board and the planning committee for the new facility in 1979.

Kingsolver received his B.S. degree from the University of Kentucky, his M.D. from the University of Michigan.

He served an internship at Cincinnati General Hospital and residency at St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington.

He is married to Virginia (Hery) of Lexington. The couple was married in 1963. They have three children: Robert, Barbara and Ann, plus three grandchildren.

The Kingsolver moved to Carlisle in 1954. He spent two years as a physician in the U.S. Navy and returned to practice in Nicholas County.

Dr. Kingsolver and his family have done medical missions in Africa, the Caribbean Islands and in Canada.
