Goldy-Ballard are wed February 14

Marsha Lynn Goldy and Gary Wayne Ballard were united in holy matrimony, February 14, at Bethel Christian Church.

Reverend Frank Cleaver, Carlisle, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown she had designed. Fashioned by Miss Nena Donovan, the gown was styled with a fitted bodice with ruffled lace trim, simulated pearls on the neckline and puffed sleeves. The bodice was overlayed with lace. The skirt had tiers of lace with a satin, ribbon-tie sash.

Her bridal headpiece was a finger-tip veil of illusion and blusher of nylon netting, trimmed with scattered simulated pearls. She carried a bouquet of wine and pink carnations and baby's breath.

Dreanna Griffith, Carlisle, was maid of honor. She wore a long pink dress and also carried a bouquet of wine and pink carnations and baby's breath.

Dalphine Goldy, Elizabeth Goldy, and Gladys Goldy, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. Dalphine wore a long white dress with a wine-colored satin ribbon-tie sash. Elizabeth wore a long wine-colored dress. Gladys wore a long white dress with a pink satin ribbon sash. They carried bouquets identical to the maid of honor.

Rodney Mitchell, brother of the groom, was best man. James Pergram, the bride's brother, Harold Ballard, Jr., brother of the groom, and Fred Ziegler were groomsmen.

Lydia Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, Carlisle, was the flower girl. She wore a short lavender satin dress.

Alex Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, was ring bearer.

Piano music was provided by Robin and Johnya Griffith. Mrs. Sharon Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Geneva Allison, was the vocalist.

Ushers were Edward Goldy, brother of the bride, and Manuel Hunt.

Nena Donovan presided at the guest book.

A reception was held in the church following the ceremony.

Mrs. Ruby Villaflor and Mrs. Charity Griffith were instrumental in arranging the wedding and reception.

Guests included Dr. and Mrs. Osias Villaflor, Lynn Villaflor, Ozias Villaflor, David Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Griffith, David Goldy, Viola Cleaver, Louise Linville, Roberta Hatfield, Reverend and Mrs. Carl Fast, Randy Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Sharon Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Geneva Allison, was the vocalist.

Marsha is a student at Morehead State University and Gary is employed by Quick Delivery. They reside in Owingsville.

Roseberry of Paris, exchanged wedding vows at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, February 14 at the Mize Community Church in Mize. The Reverend John Oldfield Jr., officiated at the double-ring private ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Cantrell of Hazel Green were the attendants.

A wedding reception was held, Sunday, March 1, 1-4 p.m., at the home of the brides parents in Millersburg.

Mrs. Imogene Livengood, Millersburg, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Susan B. Fryman, sister-in-law of the bride, Judy Johnson, Paris, and Mrs. Wanda Welch, Carlisle, assisted at the reception. Melanie Turner of Lexington, attended the guest register.

The bride is a graduate of Bourbon County High School. She is employed by Ralph G. Smith Horse Transportation.

The groom is a graduate of Bourbon County High School and is employed by T. T. I. Railroad. He is also a part-time employee of John O. Smith Spreading of Paris and is a self-employed farmer.

Mrs. Roseberry is the granddaughter of Georgia Sivers Ferback and the late Laurel P. Sivers of Nicholas County, also Bess Fryman and the late Earl Fryman of Millersburg. She is also the niece of Mr. and Mrs. William Fryman and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Fryman of Nicholas County.

The bride was honored with the following showers: January 31, Mrs. Lyda Sallee of Lexington hosted a miscellaneous shower. February 9, Judy Johnson of Paris hosted a miscellaneous shower. February 26, Mrs. Doris Current of Millersburg was the hostess of a miscellaneous shower. Mr. and Mrs. Wendal Welch of Carlisle entertained with a small dinner party at their home on February 13.

The couple are residing at 845 Russell Cave Road, Centerville.

Beautiful: Tips from the Hart

Dear Hart,

I have a problem with thin hair in my temple area. What can I do to make my hair grow, also what can I do to make my hair thicker? Ellen

Dear Ellen,

I don't really have enough information about your specific problem, so I will give you some basic tips.

Plaiting, rollers, or any style that puts stress on your hair follicle can cause hair loss. You can lose hair when you are pregnant or when you are on the pill. If you have been severly ill you can have temporary hair loss.

Be careful when you care for your hair. Don't use hair brushes with sharp nylon bristles. Don't pull hair tight, as in pony tails or tight twists that put tension on the hair. Over bleached hair can be broken to the the scalp. Use a soft brush, shampoo regularly and gently with a mild shampoo, dry hair by letting the towel soak up the moisture, rather than vigorous towling.

A healthy body is your best bet for hair that is full and beautiful. However there is not much you can do, to make your hair grow faster — other than make sure your diet is balanced. Be sure to read model tip Number 2.

Model Tip: If you eat more food than your body burns off, you will gain weight. Thats a fact. But all calories are not the same. Research done for the past 10 years, says fat is more fattening, if you will than carbohydrate.

Fat calories and carbohydrate calories take a different pathway once inside the body. The carbohydrate pathway burns off more calories. You can make fat, out of fat more easily than out of anything else. Thats one more reason to limit your fat intake.

Model Tip Number 2: If you think you are losing more hair than you normally do, count the hairs that have collected on your comb. If there are more than one hundred, you need to check to see if your hair is falling out or just breaking off, by checking the ends of the hair. If a white bulb is at the end, the hair has fallen out. If no white end, your hairs are breaking off.

Please send questions to Beautiful: Tips from the Hart, P. O. Box 72297, Louisville, KY 40272.

GS cookie sale underway

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale, sponsored by Wilderness Girl Scout Council, is now in progress. Nicholas County Girl Scouts hope to sell 2,628 boxes before the sale ends in late March.

In addition to raising money for troop activities, Girl Scouts are selling to earn various incentives prizes. Depending on the number of boxes sold, girls can earn a patch, tote bag or stuffed animal. They can also earn Cookie Dough which is a credit to help them pay for resident camp, day camp, and other program events.

Customers who placed orders in January should have their cookies delivered soon. Those who were not able to order cookies can still purchase boxes by calling Mrs. Sam Reynolds, 289-6362.

Fooks appearing in Lexington Follies

The 36th annual show of the Lexington Woman's Club Follies will be a spectacular one!

The show, entitled "Making Our Kind of Music", will be appearing at the Opera House March 6-8. Evening performances will be 8 p.m. and the Sunday matinee will be 2 p.m.

Profits from the show are channeled back into the community through a host of avenues.

Most importantly, the support of the Clothing Center on Walton Avenue.

Fayette County School children have clothed there since 1948. Over 1,300 children were dressed last year alone. The group also funds six full University of Kentucky scholarships.

The show is directed by Jerome Cargill Productions of New York City. The director is sent to Lexington three weeks prior to opening night.

Using local talent entirely, he stages a vaudeville/variety-type show that never seems to loose it's charm for the audience. Tim Fooks of Carlisle is in this year's cast.

Over 150 local singers, dancers and comedians will be showing off over 200 professionally designed costumes.

Tickets for the performances can be purchased for $7.00 — reserved seating; $5.00 — general admission; and a special Senior Citizen reserved rate of $5.00 for the 2 p.m. Sunday matinee.

Contact 272-4874 after 6 p.m. for tickets.

Social Security update

Reporting a change of address

It is important for people getting Social Security benefits to inform Social Security of any change of address, Tom Cortner, Social Security manager in Maysville, said recently. This is important even if the person has arranged for direct deposit of his or her checks in a financial institution.

Occasionally, we have to contact people even if they have arranged for direct deposit, Tom Cortner said. If we cannot locate the person, we may have to stop sending out his or her monthly check.

A change of address can be reported by mail or phone. If it is reported in writing, both the old and new addresses, including ZIP code should be included, as well as the Social Security claim number and the names of all family members who are receiving mail at the new address.

More information about reporting can be obtained at the Maysville Social Security office, located at 720 US Hwy. 68 S. The telephone number is (606) 564-4096.
