Rosemary Clooney to perform on KET

Mayville native Rosemary Clooney will perform on two programs airing on KET during Tele-Fest '87.
Clooney, Carol Channing and Hal Linden will be among the stars performing in the "Great Performances" presentation of "Broadway Singers: The Music of Duke Ellington" since the 1960s. Broadway has been singing Duke's music in such hits as "Goodbye, Mr. Tombs," "Gypsy" and "Porgy and Bess."
In a special encore presentation, Clooney and Frank Sinatra take part in a television salute to one of America's most popular and vibrant jazz heroes: Benny Goodman.
"Benny Goodman: Let's Dance — A Musical Tribute" encore, Thursday, March 19, at 9 p.m. on KET. Goodman (who died last year) stars in this concert recorded at the New York Marriott Marquis.
Also performing in "Broadway Road: The Music of Duke Ellington" will be Marietta Hartley, Larry Kerr, Rex Smith, Melissa Manchester, Chita Rivera, Linda Lavin, Jack Jones, Jeffrey Osborne and Marjorie Hill.
Styue's early career included stints as a bond salesman in Chicago and as a vocal coach in Hollywood.
He eventually teamed with lyricist Sammy Cahn to write songs for the movies.
The duo had their first Broadway hit in "High Society Show."

Styue went on to work with Leo Robbins in "Goodman Preter Blonden" which opened in 1949 and starred Carol Channing.
"Benny Goodman: Let's Dance — A Musical Tribute" opens with Goodman and his band performing their famous song, "Let's Dance." Other favorites include "Anything for You," "King Porter Stomp," "Blue Room," "Stealin' Apples" and "Goodbye."
Also paying tribute to Goodman on the special will be Tolly Wilson, the noted pianist who joined the Goodman Trio in 1936.
He is accompanied by Louis Bellon on drums and Stan Stewart on bass. It's a solo performance. Stewart sings his famous "Fat Foot Flange."

IF YOU MANAGE RISK TODAY, YOUR CHILDREN CAN MANAGE THE FARM TOMORROW.

Not too many years ago, if you could manage hard work and long hours, you had a successful farm. But today there is something more important to manage. Risk. And controlling your finances is a big part of risk management. You need to use credit wisely — with a repayment plan that fits your operation.

That's where Farm Credit Services can help. Because we've provided credit and financial services to farmers for nearly 70 years, we understand agriculture. And you. We know that in these tough times, you've made just about every cut you can. With a reduced staff. And fewer offices. At Farm Credit Services, you work with one base office, in one location — for short, intermediate- and long-term credit and other financial services. So let's get together. We want to help you today so your children can manage the farm tomorrow.
