Ford's Footnotes

By Senator Ed Ford. May is a time when all the world's attention is focused on Kentucky.

Considered among the first that may be in May each year is a work long array of events that brings some positive attention to our state...

It gives us an opportunity to "showcase" our Commonwealth at its very best. It is the Kentucky Derby.

This year was no different. The weather was beautiful, the crowds were in bloom and the Derby was the place to be for the Governor's traditional Derby Breakfast.

As a customary footnote I didn't attend the Kentucky Derby again to keep my record of 511 consecutive straight losses in tact.

In response to a proposed action, our Small Business Task Force asked the Tennessee Valley Authority to rethink why they are not lending to Kentucky's farmers.

TV, which sells electricity at all of the state's rural electric cooperative, plans to increase its electric power rate by 10 percent...

The inspection period for the property tax assessment roll is scheduled for inspection from May 26 through June 8, 1987...

This is the January 1, 1987 assessment on which state, county, and school taxes for 1987 will be due about September 15, 1987.

Any person who wishes to appeal an assessment must file a written letter of petition with the county clerk within the above period of time.

Another subject before the Education Committee is class size limits for elementary and secondary schools and exemptions that may be acceptable or negotiable to the guidelines adopted by the 1986 session of the Legislature.

While no one disagrees with the intent of the law, which is to insure that Kentucky schools offer learning, considerable disagreement does exist over exemptions to the law.

The State Board of Education approved a new regulation which the class size limit passed by the 1986 General Assembly.
