Freshmen and junior varsity coach Greg Letcher feels one of the most important tasks facing both teams this season "is making better ball players."

"Our ultimate goal is not to win or lose, we're trying to make them better ball players," Letcher said.

He added what he wants to give each player on these two teams is floor experience.

"Once these players get to the varsity level that floor experience is very important," he said.

Letcher said the junior varsity team may be starting some juniors from the varsity team along with the sophomores that comprise the team.

As for the freshmen team, Letcher said, "We're trying to incorporate them into our varsity and j.v. practices."

He said they are giving it their best effort and are working out well.

"Practice time is limited for the freshmen team when the season

Of The Carlisle Mercury Staff
Greg Letcher simply wants to make better ball players.

Letcher is assistant varsity coach and coach of both freshmen and junior varsity teams.

"Our goal is to give these guys some experience on the floor. We're trying to make them better basketball players," he said of the freshmen and junior varsity teams.

He is a native of Nicholas, playing ball here before going to school at Morehead State University.

Letcher has coached in the Nicholas County school system for five years; he assisted with coaching at Millersburg Military Institute for two years before returning to Nicholas.

He teaches several business courses at Nicholas County High School.
