Sims Jewelry a part of Carlisle for over 30 years

By Linda Branning
of the Carlisle Mercury Staff
Sims Jewelry has been a part of Carlisle for 30 years now, and still going strong.
Mrs. Bessie Sims, along with her son, Marvin Sims Jr., have kept this family business going with such a happy help.
Mrs. Sims said, "Sometimes I enjoy being here at the store, and sometimes I don't."
Mrs. Sims said, "Marvin loved to work here for 43 years."
Marvin Sims Jr. bought the jewelry store from his brother Frank in 1965. Mr. Sims had managed the store up until the time of his death, three years ago.
Mrs. Sims said, "I met my husband while working at the Car-

Carlisle, and he was very active in the community."
"He was the first president of Little League Baseball, served as Secretary of the Board for the Carlisle Methodist Church, and served on the Nicholas County and Carlisle School Boards for 18 years," added Mrs. Sims.
"Everybody liked my husband, and he liked everybody, we all miss him very much," she added.
Mrs. Sims said, "I met my husband while working at the Car-
