FHA offers leadership development

By Heather Mathes
Of the Carlisle Mercury Staff

Future Homemakers of America is as Bonnie Metcalfe said, "Leadership Development, developing skills for life, and youth assuming roles in society."

Officers for this year's association are, Mary Susan Dotson, President, Rebekah Jones, first Vice-President, Jamey Kenney, second Vice-President, Rhonda Curran, Secretary, Tammy Morris, Treasurer, Tina Ishmael, Reporter, Sarah Blount, Historian, Julie Clark, Parliamentarian, Lynn Coker, Recreation Leader, Kristie Carpentar, Devotion Leader, Tonya McCarty, Honor Roll Chairman, Melanie Robinson, Song Leader, Sara Booth, Scholarship Chairman, and Kristen Porter, Photographer.

F.H.A. Chapter meetings are monthly and during the summer officers take time to plan all programs of work and the meeting topics.

Meeting topics are issues affecting the age members belonging to the association.

For example, in December Melanie Robinson and Sara Booth will speak on peer pressure. In January Sarah Blount will talk about coping with separation and divorce and Jamey Kenney's program in March will be on teenage pregnancy.

The Executive Council meets after the school year begins to finalize all plans.

A cluster meeting, one of four, held in St. Louis this year is a small
