Steve Vice was awarded the Goodyear Conservation Award. This is given in recognition of outstanding accomplishments in resource conservation. Presenting the award to Cliff Vice, father of Steve, is Edgar A. Darrell, chairman of the Nicholas County Conservation District. Also, pictured is Steve Chapin, District Conservationist for Nicholas County. - Submitted Photo.

The primary goal of the Nicholas County Conservation District is to control soil erosion. Pictured is Robert Sparks in a recently installed grassed waterway. The area was previously in a critically eroding gully. - Submitted Photo.

Conditions poor

Crops are under continued stress across Kentucky due to heat and low soil moisture, said Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner David E. Boswell.

As of Friday, August 21, soil moisture was rated as 45 percent very short, 44 percent short and 11 percent adequate.

Farmers were able to work in the fields almost the entire week, averaging 5.6 days out of six. The most common activities were cutting and hauling tobacco, harvesting hay and corn silage and seeding CRP land.

Burley tobacco cutting continued ahead of normal, due in part to the extremely hot weather. Some cutting and housing were moved up because of reports of sunburned tobacco.

Housed tobacco continues to suffer from heat and lack of air movement.

Statewide, burley cutting was 39 percent complete by Sunday, August 23. This compares with 30 percent last year and the five year average of 20 percent.

Dark tobacco cutting advanced to 40 percent complete compared with 30 percent last year. Overall, the tobacco condition is rated 1 percent very poor, 5 percent poor, 53 percent fair, 39 percent good and 2 percent excellent.

This year's corn crop is drying rapidly, and some shelling occurred last week. With 27 percent of the corn for grain acreage mature or harvested compared with the five year average of 12 percent, grain harvest should exceed normal progress.

The corn crop is rated 1 percent very poor, 1 percent poor, 18 percent fair, 68 percent good and 12 percentexcellent, though some late planted corn could still benefit from a rain.

The amount of acreage reaching denting or beyond is 76 percent, equal to last year and ahead of the 54 percent average. Silage harvest is 20 percent complete.

Plaintiff

VS: Notice of Sale
Phillip Howard, Connie Howard, Olga Caswell and Otis Caswell
Defendants

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale of the Nicholas Circuit Court entered in the above styled action on August 6, 1987, the undersigned Special Commissioner will on the 12th day of September, 1987, at or about the hour of 10 a.m., at the Courthouse Door, in Carlisle, Kentucky, offer for sale to the highest and best bidder, the following described property:

A certain tract or parcel of land lying and being in Nicholas County, Kentucky, on the waters of Brushy Fork Creek and on the line of the "Old Paris Pike" at the entrance gate thereto in an easterly direction along the fence of Otis Caswell and Fred Bashford 475 feet to a fence post in the line of Otis Caswell and Bashford; thence in a Northerly direction 125' along the line of Otis Caswell to a set fence post corner to Caswell's other land; thence in a westerly direction 475' along the line of Otis Caswell to a set fence post in the margin of the road-KY Highway No. 36 and Paris Pike; thence in a southerly direction 125' along the margin of said road to the place of beginning, containing approximately 1-1/2 Acres.

This being the same property conveyed to Otis Caswell and Phillip Howard by Billy G. Hopkins, Trustee, by deed dated September 1, 1971, and of record in Deed Book 66, Page 546, Nicholas County Clerk's Office.

Upon sale of the above described property, the purchase price shall be payable as follows: Twenty per cent (20%) on the day of sale, with balance on a credit of thirty (30) days for which the purchaser shall be required to execute bond, with good security, dated as of the date of the sale and bearing interest at the rate of twelve per cent (12%) per annum until paid, sale to have the force and effect of a judgement, upon which execution may issue if same is not paid at maturity. As security for the purchase price the Special Commissioner will retain a lien against the real estate to secure payment of the balance of the purchase money. The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying cash on the day of sale.

Following the sale of the above described property, the Special Commissioner shall report his actions to the Court. U.S. SENATOR FOR KENTUCKY

Mitch McConnell

RAISING THE SPEED LIMIT TO 65 MPH ON KENTUCKY PARKWAYS

Earlier this year I introduced a bill that would broaden the eligibility for a higher speed limit on Kentucky parkways. This bill would address an area that was left out of the Highway Bill that allowed states to raise speed limits on federal interstate highways to 65 mph.

The Highway Bill allows states to raise the speed limit to 65 mph on rural interstates only. Segments of highways across Kentucky and the rest of the country essentially meet interstate standards in rural and small urban areas, yet motorists will not be allowed to drive 65 mph on these portions. Why? Because they don't have the red, white, and blue interstate shields with numbers on them. That, for the most part, is the only difference that separates these segments from the federal interstate roads.

Kentucky has literally hundreds of miles of non interstate, toll-financed highways. Regardless of the fact that eight of Kentucky's parkways are four-lane, limited-access highways compatible with interstate standards, they are not allowed to post a 65 mph sign. The law says that these 100% state-financed parkways must remain at the 55 mph speed limit even though they are as safe or safer than interstates. I am sure you agree that this makes no sense at all.

The Commonwealth is not the only state that faces this problem. The Department of Transportation estimates that forty four different states have divided, four-lane, fully controlled access highways in small urban and rural areas which are ineligible for the 65 mph speed limit.

My bill would allow the speed limit to be raised to 65 mph on highways that are outside an urban area with a population of 50,000 or more which meets interstate standards, or which are divided four-lane, fully controlled access highways built to design and construction standards the Secretary of Transportation believes are adequate for a 65 mph speed limit. I am pleased to report that this bill has the endorsement of the Federal Highway Administration.

The benefits of raising the speed limit for the trucker are obvious--less time to drive between points. What is sometimes overlooked it the economic impact this bill will have. Shorter times between destination points means that truckers and other businesses that depend on shipping goods on high-ways will be able to count on faster deliveries.

Now that Congress is back in session after a long August recess, the Senate will be taking up a variety of issues--the 65 mph speed limit being one of them. I will be working hard to see that it is passed.
