More than 120,000 apply for Toyota jobs

By Mike Ensey
Associated Press Writer
CINCINNATI, Ky. (AP) - The long wait is about over for the thousands of hopefuls who applied to work at the Toyota Motor Corporation auto assembly plant in Scott County.

1,700 by December. Another 1,200 will be hired in 1989 when production is expanded to a second shift.

The total will reach 3,500 in 1991 when an engine, auto and steering facility in the full operation, bringing an estimated annual payroll of more than $10 million, the company said.

Initial production is expected to begin this summer. A Toyota spokesman said to 90 percent of the employees have roots in Kentucky.

Centel Cable has sponsored programs like Project V.I.P. (Video 1-D Productions) in which recycle use, fingerprinting, videotaped, and photographs of children for local police state files.

The State Attorney General's Office is the workshop and the Media Project Award as a result of their cooperation and support given to the Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Board.

The cable industry's theme for National Cable Month "Discover Our Difference," is a very appropriate way of expressing the significant difference we've made in our community, said Ensey.

National Cable Month is a joint effort of the National Academy of Cable Programming and the National Cable Television Association.

And the hiring method, which includes technical, interpersonal and leadership skills evaluation, has been designed to give applicants their best opportunity to show skills...
