Drought affecting tobacco seed business

By Heather Mathias for the Courier-Messenger
The drought of 1986, as it has come to be called in the farming community, is also affecting the tobacco seed business.

Clay's Seed, Inc., one such tobacco seed company which extends into five counties including Nicholas, reports blazes will be late and success rate will be down.

Clay's Seed, said, "It appears the tobacco will be 10 days to two weeks late to bloom."

Wilson said, "Kentucky in general has been hit hard by the drought, with not one county that I have seen getting any more rain than another."
