Darrell to participate in softball world series

Dan Darrell, second row, second from left, will participate in two national softball tournaments this fall.

By Julie Pfeiffer... Dan Darrell will participate in the USSSA World Series Tournament in Columbus, Ohio.

Of thousands of softball teams that belong to the Association, only 16 will go to the world Series, Darrell said.

The name of their team is AES, which stands for All-American Excavating and Siding.

Most of the women are professionals, are married and have children, and "a lot of dedication," she also said.

It takes a great deal of money to sponsor a "traveling team," she said, and no incident at a tournament in Louisville this year, is helping pay for their trip to Carlisle.

A corporate executive approached them after the tournament and said he would like to give them $8,000.

He explained that he had contacted and was unable to coach a team anymore. He said he had heard a great deal about their team and had seen them play and wanted to help.

Darrell said he was particularly excited by the offer, but didn't take it very seriously until there was a certified check in their account two weeks later.

Darrell too, is an ex-collegiate athlete at Transylvania, where she had a basketball scholarship, she also played volleyball and softball.

Her mother, Jessie, brought her a trophy case, that she said is already packed with the trophies Dan has won.
