On tournament's final night

Madison Southern claims 71-60 decision over Nicholas

By Heather Mathes
Of The Carlisle Mercury Staff

Nicholas County met Madison Southern in the final round of the Estill County Choo-Choo tournament, but failed to gain a win, falling to the Eagles, 71-60.

Madison Southern broke out with an early lead with Johnny King, Lyle Bricknell and Roger Pollard all scoring.

With 5:59 to play, the Bluejackets finally got on the scoreboard as David Sparks popped up in the lane to buy a bucket for Nicholas, 7-2.

After Eagle Eddie Renzenbrink laid down a dunk on the first break for Madison Southern, Nicholas called time.

The Big blue machine started rolling, implementing a corner to corner swing, pounding the play by drawing a foul.

After following his own foul shot, Mathes stripped the net at the top of the key to cut the lead to ten, 26-16, 5:47 left to play.

Anderson fouled Danny Wells, as he went two for two at the line to gain on the Eagles closing the gap by eight.

Pollard, assisted by Bricknell took three consistent shots from the corner, Eagles still in the lead.

On the offensive side of the court Daniel Brown dished to Brian Hilander on the fast break for another two.

After an Eagle turnover, Mathes charged the middle to close out the half, 33-27.

During the second half, Wells kicked it off for Nicholas with a turn-around-jumper in the lane to bring the Brian Hilander scoring off a baseline assist from Collier Mathes.

Andy Anderson followed suit with one from three point range.

But Estill stayed on top with strong offensive rebounds returning to the bucket, up 17-10.

A dramatic play in the last seconds of the quarter saw Eagle Bricknell sinking one from the half-court mark to lead, 22-12.

During the second quarter, consistent shooting on the inside by Albert Johnson for the Eagles kept Madison Southern on top.

Back in the game, Collier Mathes kept the ball alive, eventually taking down the offensive rebound and putting up a Bluejacket two, completing the play by drawing a foul.

Flyers use strong second half for win

By Heather Mathes
Of The Carlisle Mercury Staff

After dropping the first round game of the Estill Choo-Choo Classic to the host team, Nicholas advanced to suffer a defeat from Franklin County, 60-42.

Head Coach Lee Cruse instructed the Bluejacket team to "give me an effort," and an effort Nicholas did make with Andy Anderson taking possession of the tip-off and Nicholas cutting into an immediate four point lead.

Senior and power forward, Danny Wells, shot 75 percent in the first quarter taking control underneath to close out the quarter, 15-10, Franklin County up by five.

The opposition continued to jump out quick as Nicholas County, with only 3:35 to play, put up only nine points, 28-19.

However, the Bluejackets held Franklin County and sunk one more bucket to stay in range, one half down, one to go, 28-21.

Opening up the second half, Franklin County jumped to a 14 point lead with 4:05 left of play, 38-24.

Anderson closed out the third quarter with his long jumper, 40-33.

During the fourth and final quarter of play Collier Mathes popped out to hit 50 percent and take down four defensive rebounds.

But the effort did not prove enough as Nicholas, after trailing in every quarter, was downed by Franklin County, 60-42.

High scorers were, Wells with nine, Mathes and Brad Allison eight, David Sparks seven, Anderson six, Daniel Brown five and Scott Ballard with four.

Host Estill derails Nicholas in Choo Choo

By Heather Mathes
Of The Carlisle Mercury Staff

In the first round of the Estill County Choo-Choo Classic, Nicholas paired up with the host team but dropped the competition, 68-51.

Nicholas struggled to stay within four in the first quarter, 16-12, with Andy Anderson shooting 100 percent and David Sparks battling it out underneath for 40 percent.

Nicholas tied it all up in the second quarter, 27-27, staying strong on the defensive boards, and forcing Estill away from the basket to hit only three for 12.

It was Estill's turn to break out strong as Jeff Wiseman went 100 percent and J. Niece backed him up with 50 percent.

Nicholas trailed to a ten point deficit, 47-37.

It was a battle to the finish as Estill outscored Nicholas 21 to 14, the Bluejackets coming home with a loss in the first round, 68-51.

High scorers for the Bluejackets were, Anderson with 13, Collier Mathes 11, Sparks 10, Daniel Brown eight, Brad Allison seven and Travis Simms with two.

Boswell named to state post

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) – Former state Agriculture Commissioner David Boswell has been appointed an assistant to the budget director of the Cabinet for Human Resources.

Boswell will be the liaison between Human Resources officials and legislators, said John Cubine, the cabinet's budget director.

Boswell, who will be paid $38,000 a year, had worked for Gov. Wallace Wilkinson's lottery plans during the special session that convened last month.

He was actually employed by the Human Resources Department, where he started work Nov. 16, according to personnel records.

Cubine said Boswell, a former state representative from Daviess, Union and Henderson counties, will work with the legislature's interim committee that handles issues related to human resources.

Maysville lands plant

Facility to employ between 90 and 100

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP) – The Crystal Tissue Co. of Middletown, Ohio, has leased a building here to process a wide range of packing and gift-wrapping tissues. The plant is expected to employ 90-100 people when fully operational by March 31, 1989.

Company President James Akers said recruitment is to begin immediately with 30-40 workers expected to be on the job by Feb. 1.

The cost of the Maysville project is estimated to be $2.5 million.
