Math-A-Thon proves a success for Nicholas County students

Fund-raising event

In their ongoing crusade to help both local and more universal causes, students of the Nicholas County Elementary School have worked hard to bring the 1988 Math-A-Thon crusade to a successful conclusion, raising a total of $4,236.25.

Harry Spickler, NCHS faculty member who served as the project coordinator, said the community and the individuals in-valued in the Math-A-Thon made the project a success.

Math-A-Thon is a program of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital which allows young people to help other children with leukemia needs.

All NCHS students who returned money for St. Jude received Honor Award certificates. The 97 who returned $25 or more received Math-A-Thon T-shirts, and the six who returned $100 or more received Math-A-Thon tote bags.

All awards were presented by St. Jude.

Those who received tote bags were Carolyn Flure, Amanda Flure, Kristina Cox, Mary Ann Jolly, Bradley Russell, Tonya France and Amanda King.

Winners of the first school contest will receive additional gifts.

The overall fund raiser, second grader Amanda King, collected $146 for the hospital.

Kindergartners through fourth grade winner was fourth grader
