Health Tips from Lee Rose
289-2188

Children interest d in outdoor play do not watch the calendar. If the sun is shining, the invitation is out to romp on the playground. Youngsters give little if any thought to a broken slide or weak chains supporting a swing. Their idea is to have fun and expend bottled up energy from Winter days indoors.

Let someone else worry about fixing swings and slides which may have worn from ice and snow.

As with most aspects of children's well being, it's up to parents and other adults providing playground facilities to insure safety of the equipment, be it in the family backyard or a city park.

Failure to maintain playground equipment has resulted in serious injuries as well as deaths. Most accidents have been from falls to the ground or falls into other equipment. Children under age ten are most frequently injured.

To prevent or reduce the number of playground injuries, parents and others responsible for them must be aware of the dangers of playground equipment. Children can be taught how to prevent accidents while at play.

Even if a toddler can make his way to the top of a giant slide, it is not safe for a child at his stage of development. All equipment must be appropriate to the age using it.

Be sure all equipment is correctly and securely installed with adequate space between pieces, buildings and trees.

Care should be taken to avoid placement over hard surfaces. Routinely check each piece for cracks, loose or missing bolts and general wear.

Remember to always supervise young children at all times.

For more information contact the Nicholas County Health Center at 289-2188.

Social Security Update

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 requires that dependents age 5 and over listed on income tax returns be identified by a Social Security number.

Although most parents generally obtain Social Security numbers for their children by age 3, an estimated one-third of the children age 5 and over do not have numbers.

Parents can apply for numbers for their children by mail or phone at any Social Security office. Or, they can make an appointment to apply in person. If a dependent is 18 or older, he or she must apply in person.

Evidence of the dependent's date of birth, U. S. citizenship or lawful alien status, and identity is required. A public birth record established before age 5 is generally sufficient to prove age and U. S citizenship.

School, medical, day care, and certain other records can be used for identity. The documents submitted must be originals, not photocopies, Social Security officials emphasized. They will be returned once they have been examined.

Headquarters homemakers meet

The Headquarters Homemakers met March 1 at the Nicholas County Library with Marjorie Burnaw and Dorothy Kimberling as Hostess.

Our next meeting will be April 5 at the Nicholas County Library with Clarine Gudgell, Jeanette Wallace and Lucille Feebeck as Hostesses.

We will have a quilt show at our April meeting and a pot luck meal.

Children over 5 years of age must have a Social Security Number

If you haven't done so yet, you'll need to get a Social Security number for your children 5 and over if you're going to claim them on your tax return.

To get a Social Security number for your child, you'll need to show proof of his or her age, citizenship or lawful alien status, and identity.

A birth record will provide proof of age and U.S. citizenship. An immunization record, for example, will provide proof of identity.

Main Street - Carlisle

In loving memory of Joseph (Joey) Price, 3-month old son of Kevin and Janna Smith Price, LaGrange, Georgia, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, Lexington, formerly of Carlisle, who passed away unexpectedly at home March 2, 1988:

I'll send you for a little while, a child of Mine, He said.
For you to love the while he lives, and mourn for when he's dead.
It may be six or seven years or twenty two or three,
But will you, till I call him home, take care of him for Me?
I'll send his charms to gladden you, and shall his stay be brief.
You'll have his lovely memories as solace for our grief.
I fancied that I heard them say: "Dear Lord, Thy will be done",
For all the joy this child shall bring, the risk of grief we'll run.
We'll shelter him with love, endeavor to give him while we may and for the happiness we've known, forever grateful stay.
And shall the Angels call for him much sooner than we'd planned,
We'll brave the bitter grief that comes, and try and understand.
