BUSINESS PROFILES

For McKees running a family business a real challenge

By Michelle Havens

Driving by many rural businesses in Nicholas County, it's quite easy to stop and think about the many aspects behind the scenes in owning and operating a business of their own.

Like houses become homes, businesses take a lot of time and effort to make them a place where people want to be. Julian and Helen McKee, residents and business owners in Nicholas County, have strived to make their business a place where their customers, new and regular, continue to patronize.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee are the owners and operators of a grocery and fishing lake in the small community of Jacktown. McKee's Grocery and Fishing Lake were established in February 1980 and have gone through many changes since the beginning.

Mr. McKee's allergies to most of the chemicals used in farm work prompted them to look for a new type of income. They began to look for another location in the county, one which would benefit from a grocery being in the area.

Mr. McKee summed himself and his business up by saying, "I am a fisher of men more ways than one. I enjoy a lot of the fishermen and a lot of them have been coming ever since we have been here. We have developed close relationships with some of our 'regular customers,' commented Mrs. McKee. Mr. and Mrs. McKee both agree they want their business to be a family business and for their patrons to be able to bring their families to the lake and have an enjoyable time in a wholesome atmosphere with some of our 'regular customers,' commented Mrs. McKee.

Julian and Helen McKee standing in front of their local business, McKee's Grocery and Fishing Lake, show their approval of the nice weather which brings them most of their business.

Mr. McKee is a full-time pastor at the Tilton United Methodist Church in Fleming County. Mrs. McKee is also very active in the church. She is the church's choir director, junior church teacher, and program coordinator.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee agreed handling a business, church services on Sunday mornings and nights, and midweek prayer meetings can become very strenuous. Mrs. McKee estimated that their pay lake draws over 6,000 customers annually, with up to 120 patrons in one day. They keep their business open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.
