Regular season ends on up note for Lady Jackets

Nicholas County's eighth grade girls pulled away from a close 14-9 lead after one quarter to post a 50-27 win over visiting Woodford County.

The Jackets exploded for a 14-3 run in the second quarter, and out scored Woodford County 18-2 in the third quarter to wrap up the decision.

Christie Hatton led the winners with 13 points and five rebounds. Kim Denkins had 12 points and seven rebounds.

Nikki Smoot finished with the 11 for Nicholas County, while Renee Linville had 10 points.

"This is a fine group of players we have in the program, both seventh and eighth grade teams," she added.

Nicholas County went on to finish the regular season with a 43-35 win over Mason County.

Kenney said she believed this was the first loss of the season for Mason County.

The Jackets fell behind 12-10 at the end on one quarter, but went ahead at intermission, 22-19.

The Jackets were clinging to a three point lead, 29-26, after three quarters, but inspired defense, and baskets off turnovers, led the Jackets to the eight point decision.

The victory allowed Nicholas County's eighth grade ladies' team to finish 12-1.

Hatton finished as the game's scoring leader with 14 points. She also had seven rebounds and six steals.

Linville finished as the game's second highest scorer with 11 points.

Seventh graders clinch title

Nicholas County Junior Lady Jackets fought back to even the score 18-18 in the seventh grade game and never looked back in posting a 38-22 decision over Woodford County in seventh grade action.

In the regular season contest, Nicholas County out scored Woodford County 10-1 in the third quarter and 10-3 in the last quarter to post the win.

Elizabeth Schanding led Nicholas County with 14 points and 10 steals, and Kim Denkins pitched in 10 points and pulled down 10 rebounds.

The win clinched a conference divisional championship for the undefeated Jackets, and propelled Nicholas County in the championship of the conference tournament set for Saturday.

Nicholas County's seventh grade girls finished the regular season with a perfect, 13-0 mark with a 31-23 win over Mason County.

The Lady Jackets jumped on Mason County for a 20-4 lead at intermission and went on to record the win.

Schanding had 16 points and Denkins 11 points in the victory.

"We have quickness and depth on this team," Barbara Kenney, Nicholas County coach said.

"We have endurance and we're just a strong third quarter team," she added.
