Bengals like Kentucky Jungle...

Several members of the National Football League's Cincinnati Bengals spent the day hunting at the Robertson County Hunting Preserve, last week. Max Montoya (left) and Scott Jones display the results of their hunting. This is an annual trip for several of the Bengals, which also included Anthony Munoz, Bruce Koczenski, Bruce Reimers, Jim Fliggs, Ken Moyer, and Brian Blados.

Taking oath

Nicholas County Judge Executive Steve Smoot administers the oath of office to Nicholas County Property Evaluation Administrator Rose Brady on Monday afternoon in the Nicholas County Judges office.

Over 200 participate

Over 200 students at the Nicholas County Elementary school are participating in the Saint Jude Hospital Math-A-Thon this year. St. Jude Hospital treats childhood catastrophic diseases, and carries on continual research for the treatment of these diseases. Most children who are treated there are victims of one of the many childhood cancers, or suffer from childhood immune deficiencies and rare childhood diseases. Students from the elementary school complete Math Fun Books provided by St. Jude Hospital and collect contributions for the hospital.
