Nicholas County Lady Jackets called their own shots Wednesday night against the Sayre Lady Spartans as the Jackets easily dominated the game and turned in a win, 70-14.

The first quarter marked the largest scoring drive Sayre would mount throughout the game. By the end of the quarter, Sayre had eight points on the board, compared to the Jacket's 24.

Kim Denkins and Tary Earlywine shot for six points, Christy Hutton, however, shot for seven.

Nikki Smoot seemed to have difficulty shooting, but still was able to garner three points off one shot and a free throw and Christa Auxier brought in two points to the Jacket's score.

The second quarter saw Earlywine bring in four points, but it was Denkins who continued to dominate the boards, logging in another six points to her record while Hutton brought in two points.

Sayre managed to score once in the second to bring the overall score to 36-10 at halftime.

The third quarter brought the Lady Jackets their largest scoring drive of the evening, riddng shots for a total of 23 points in one quarter.

Denkins managed eight points, followed closely by Earlywine with six points. Smoot and Hutton had four points each and Kristie Barton rounded out the drive dropping one foul shot through the net.

Sayre pulled in another two points for the quarter. The score at the end of three, 59-12.

By the fourth Coach Barbara Kenney substituted all but one of the starting five. However, the subs were able to outplay the Spartans almost as easily as the starters did, garnering 11 total points for the quarter.

Tina Fryman, Elizabeth Schandling, Andrea Galloway, and Kristie Barton all brought in two points apiece, while Auxier brought on three points to end the game with Sayre kept true to form and brought in only two points for a final, 70-14, game.

Though deficient in scoring, Smoot did play an important defensive factor, stealing the ball eight against the Sayre Lady Spartans as the Jackets easily dominated the game and turned in a win, 70-14.

However, the Jacket's defense seemed to overwhelm the Spartans as Nicholas checked up a total of 37 steals and Denkins managed to block Sayre's shots six times through three quarters. Kenne linville brought in one other blocked shot.

Denkins was high scorer of the game with 20 points and 11 reboonds. She made 9 of 12 shots for 75 percent.

Earlywine was not far behind with 16 points and Hutton came up with 13 for the game.

Kenney said she was pleased with her team's performance and enjoyed being able to try a few ideas in a game situation.

"We simply outlasted our opponent," Kenney said, "but I get to see how well we can back ourselves up on the bench and I felt pretty good about their performance."

However, Kenney said she had reservations about the 20 turnovers the Jackets had committed during the game.

But despite the turnovers, the Lady Jackets shot for 59 percent in the game which, though it could be better, was all right, Kenney said.
